Woman Killed As Car, Bus Hit

27th, Sheridan Intersection Crash Takes Life Of Adams Resident

By Bill Anderson

A 66-year-old Adams, Neb. woman was killed and her daughter injured in the collision of a Lincoln City Lines bus and a car at 27th & Sheridan Monday evening.

Mrs. Dena DeRoe, wife of John DeRoe of rural route Adams, died of head injuries shortly after arrival at a Lincoln hospital.

Mrs. DeRoe also suffered a crushed chest, ruptured spleen and other internal injuries, hospital officials said.

Lancaster County Chief Deputy Atty. Dale E. Fahrnbruch said no inquest would be held into the death.

The death marked the first Lincoln traffic fatality in 105 days, according to police records. The city traffic death toll for 1958 now stands at 3, the same as the 1957 total, according to police.

Daughter of the couple, Mrs. Myrna Meyer, 40, also of Adams suffered head injuries and was being held at the hospital for observation. Her conditon was described by hospital officials as fair.

Treated, Dismissed

Mr. DeRoe, 69, and 3 children, Angela Meyer, 8, Sherry Meyer, 1, and Roger Meyer, 3, were treated for slight injuries and dismissed.

Police said Mr. DeRoe was the driver of the car.

The car was headed south on 27th and collided with the right front corner of the bus, headed toward downtown Lincoln on Sheridan, according to police.

DeRoe told police that he did not see the stop sign at 27th. The bus driver said he saw the headlight beams of the car, looked to the left and then the right just as the car collided with his bus.

The bus was shoved over the curb by the impact.

Only one passenger was aboard the bus which was driven by N. M. Graverholt, 34, of 1419 B, police reported.

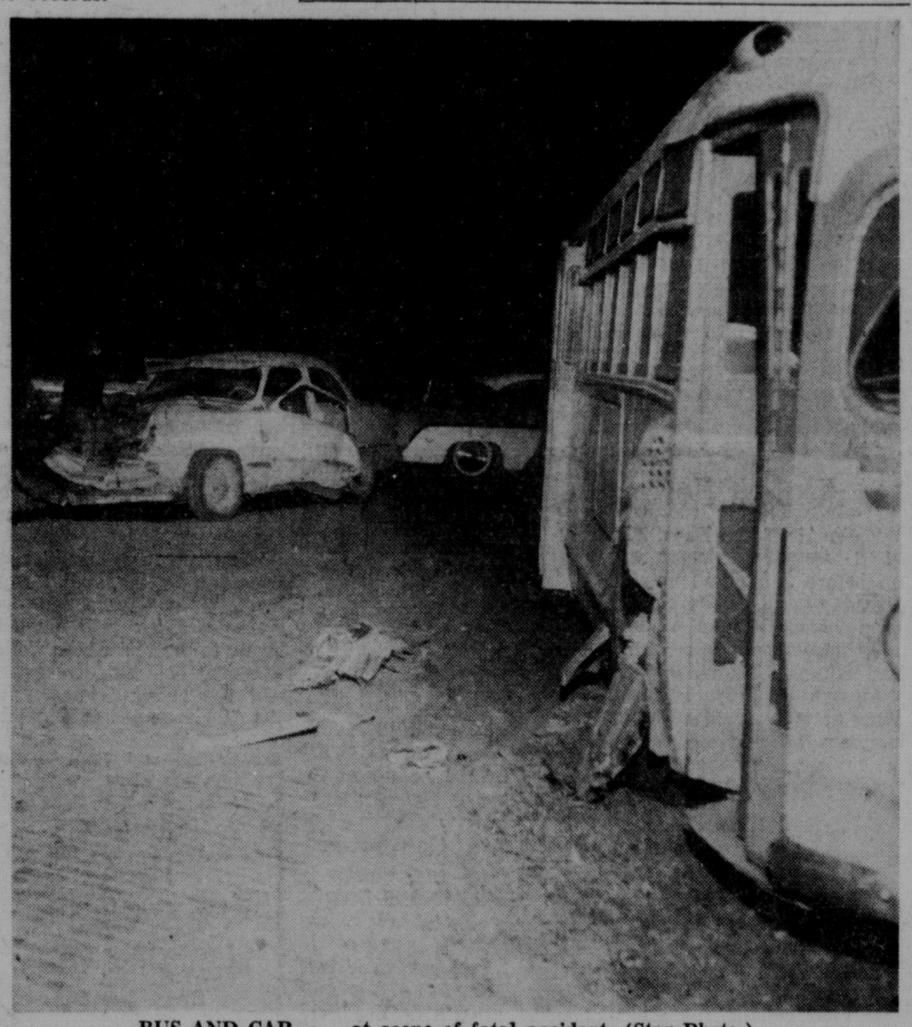

The passenger and driver were uninjured.

The car was heavily damaged.

Lincoln's first official 1958 fatality was recorded on February 7 with the death of George H. Laub, 73 of 2603 No. 49. He died 3 days after being injured in an accident at 50th & Baldwin.

The second fatality was recorded July 20, with the death of Mrs. Etta Fager of 2314 Q, who was fatally injured in an auto-pedestrian accident at 23rd and R.

The official Lancaster County fatality toll (excluding Lincoln) stands at 5, according to records.

City's Aviation Fund Declines

The City Aviation Fund (non-tax) showed a balance of $78,189.61 for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, but $2,773.90 less than a year ago.

Union Airport revenue totalled $9,719.51 as against $23,266.58, or a net operating deficit of $13,547.07.

The Municipal Airport showed $27,750.10 revenue against operating expense of $17,976.68, or a net income of $11,361.89, including $1,588.48 from earned interest.

Net income from Municipal failed to off-set the Union deficit this year and the aviation fund balance decreased by approximately that amount, officials said.

1st Balloting Favors GOP

Waterville, N. H. (Tuesday) (AP) -- This tiny town in central New Hampshire Tuesday won honors as 1st in the nation to vote, outdistancing the small mountain village of Ellsworth where the ballot clerk overslept.

Both Waterville and Ellsworth gave lopsided totals to Republican candidates for governor and Congress in the post-midnight balloting.

All 22 votes in Waterville went to Wesley Powell for governor, and to Rep. Perkins Bass (R-NH), seeking a 3rd consecutive term in the House.

In Ellsworth, the 12 voters gave a unanimous start to Powell and Bass.

The Democrats who were shut out were gubernatorial candidate Bernard L. Boutin and House candidate Stuart V. Nims.

Waterville voters gathered in the home of Town Clerk Wendell Stevenson and began casting their ballots immediately after midnight.

Big Vote Seen To Climax Hot State Campaign

Bingo, Important Local Issues Expected To Swell Balloting

Nebraska voters put an end to the lengthy, expensive and hotly-contested 1958 election campaign Tuesday.

An estimated 475,000 of them will troop to the polls under fair skies and mild temperatures to name national, state, county and local officials who will serve them for terms up to 6 years.

Hot legislative races, bingo and a bevy of local issues (such as Lincoln's wheel tax) are expected to attract an unusually large number of off-year (non-presidential) election balloters, although the total is expected to lie far below the record off-year count of 578,764 in 1934.

Record Nebraska vote was 623,781 in 1940.

The last off-year vote (1954) numbered 431,917; the 1956 total was 584,786.

Chairmen Optimistic

Party chairmen voiced election eve optimism Monday as Republican incumbents in all major offices except state treasurer place their records on the line.

Republican State Chairman Richard E. Speits Jr., of Grand Island pointed to the accumulative experience in government gained by GOP candidates who have held a virtual monopoly on top offices for two decades.

Democratic State Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle issued a final appeal for a tremendous voter switch based on agricultural ills.

Sixty-one per cent of Nebraska's primary voter total of 207,614 chose Republican ballots last May.

Same As '54

That percentage total remains almost identical to 1954 primary results indicating that what appears to be a national Democratic voting trend had not penetrated Nebraska previous to the primary (as it did in most other states.)

Thus, Democratic victories Tuesday would be major upsets.

Nebraskans haven't elected a Democratic senator since 1934 (Edward R. Burke) or governor since 1938 (Roy Cochran.)

The last Democratic congressman was Eugene D. O'Sullivan, elected in 1948 from the Second District.

The First and Fourth Districts last named Democrats in 1936 (respectively, Henry C. Luckey and C. G. Binderup.)

Longest Democratic drought has been in the Third District (ironically, the one where they believe they have their best chance this year) where the last Democrat (Edgar Howard) was last elected in 1932.

Heavy County Turnout Seen

Good weather for voting—fair and mild—is expected to produce a heavy Lancaster County turnout of 42,000 voters.

Election officials said this is about 5,000 more than in the comparable off-year voting in 1954. The estimate includes about 38,000 of the 53,000 registered voters in the city.

Voters are being urged to go to the polls early as nearly 50% of the balloting occurs after 4 p.m. in the last 4 crowded hours.

Polling places in the city remain the same as in the primary this spring with the exception of five precincts.

A map and list of polling places was carried in the Sunday Journal and Star.

Polling places changed since the primary election are:

—Precinct 6-C-2, 14th to 17th, Sumner to South, vote at 1629 So. 17th.

—Precincts 7-E-1 and 7-E-2, Agricultural College area, vote at Ag College Engineering Hall, 37th and Holdrege.

—Precinct 9-E-3, Sheridan Blvd. from 27th to 33rd, vote at Tifereth Israel Synagogue, 3219 Sheridan.

—Precinct 11-E-3, formerly voted at Bethany Community House, vote at Bethany Christian Church, 1645 No. Cotner.

Sen. Roman Hruska nipped Morrison by a 227 to 220 vote count.

All Republican incumbents were "re-elected" in election eve balloting by some 450 students. J. Monroe Bixler, only new face on the GOP ballot, also received voter approval for state treasurer (over Democrat Richard Larsen, 256 to 178).

Sponsored by the NU Young Republicans, the election also resulted in:

—a narrow victory (234 to 190) for Gov. Victor Anderson over Democrat Ralph Brooks.

. . . In Rare U.N. Unanimity

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—In a rare display of unanimity the United Nations voted Monday night to set up an 8-nation disarmament commission for 1959.

The move to end the long-standing stalemate on U.N. disarmament negotiations came in the 81-nation Political Committee, where the United States and the Soviet Union reached agreement on operating rules for the enlarged commission.

The committee endorsed by a vote of 78-0 an Indian-Yugoslav resolution worked out in consultation with representatives of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

There were two abstentions.

The resolution provides that the 81-nation commission be established for 1959 on a special basis so that the entire U.N. membership can contribute to progress on world disarmament.

Assembly Rules

The United States and the Soviet Union agreed that the commission should be convened by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold after consuling with U.N. members.

It provides that the commission operate at the outset under rules of the General Assembly, but that it also is free to formulate later its own rules of procedure.

U. S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said he wanted to make clear that the new commission should not be goverened by the rules of the old original 12-nation commission.

The United States does not want to have the new commission subject to call at the whim of an individual member, or to rotate the chairmanship on a monthly basis in alphabetical order.

Starkweather Relatives Testify For State Today

. . . Trial Delayed As Witnesses Added

By Del Harding

Two relatives of convicted killer Charles Starkweather are expected to be called as prosecution witnesses Tuesday at the Caril Fugate murder trial in Lancaster District Court.

They are Starkweather's brother Rodney and Mrs. Elsie Neal of 923 South, who is a half-sister of Starkweather's father.

Both are expected to give testimony bolstering the state's contention that 15-year-old Caril was Starkweather's willing helper on the winter murder spree which claimed 10 lives.

Also subpoenaed to testify Tuesday is Louis Meyer, a brother of slain farmer August Meyer of Bennet. Mr. Meyer was one of the victims of the killing rampage. Other state's witnesses scheduled to take the stand Tuesday are Safety-Patrolman Vernon O'Neal, Virginia Foote, Mrs. Robert C. Morrison, Mrs. W. H. Yordy, Dorothy Anderson and Bonnie Gardner.

Continuance Granted

There was no testimony Monday following the granting by Judge Harry A. Spencer of a request by defense Atty. John McArthur for a 24-hour continuance in the trial proceedings. McArthur made

Demos See Big Victory

Results May Indicate How 1960 Winds Will Blow

By J. W. Davis

Washington (AP)—The angry words of a bitter campaign faded and it was left up to the voters: Will they gratify the sky high hopes of the Democrats, or surprise the experts with a Republican triumph?

More than 76 million men and women are eligible to vote Tuesday and about 48 million are expected to.

Their votes will decide which party will control Congress for the next 2 years—and by how much—and they'll choose the men who'll govern 32 states.

Their votes may indicate, too, how blow the winds for the 1960 presidential campaign.

A 48-million voter turnout would be a record for a non-presidential election year. Good weather was forecast for most areas, but a surprise snowstorm hit western New England and upstate New York Monday.

Demos Confident

The Democrats grew so confident of sweeping gains that one of their top strategists, Sen. George Smathers of Florida, talked somberly of the duties that devolve on those in a place of great power.

Republicans made no sweeping claims. They talked hopefully, though, of startling upsets they said were in the making, something like the upset former President Harry Truman administered to overconfident Republicans in 1948.

In this 1958 campaign, Truman admonished his party not to grow too confident, but in the end he too threw restraint to the winds. He predicted the biggest Democratic landslide since 1932 when the Franklin D. Roosevelt years began.

Truman, 74 years old, was the most vigorous of the top Democratic campaigners. Vice President Nixon, 45, carried the ball hardest for the Republicans. However, the 68-year-old President Eisenhower got in some surprisingly hard blows himself.

Hard Blows Aimed

Eisenhower at one point told the voters that: "Either we choose left-wing government, or sensible, forward looking governmen." He also repeatedly attacked what he called raricals influencing the opposition, provoking Democrat Adlai Stevenson to charge that the Republicans were waging "a desperate, intolerable, demagoguery type of campaign."

Truman, in one thrust at Eisenhower, declared: "He went to Korea and surrendered to the Communists."

In another illustration of rough language, Nixon said the Democrats were spreading word that America is a weak nation, and he called this "rotgut thinking."

Case Goes To Jury

And so it went, before the case was rested with the voters.

Eisenhower and members of his family planned to vote at Gettysburg, Pa. The President will fly there by helicopter Tuesday morning and return to Washington after casting his ballot.

Sen. Smathers, in weighing the burdens that he saw ahead for a strengthened Democratic majority in Congress, told newsmen:

"After our victories tomorrow, we'll be pretty much on a spot. We've got to conduct ourselves with responsibility and provide the country with leadership."

Smathers is chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee. He predicted that the next Senate will contain 14 new Democrats. The division in the last was 49-47 in favor of the Democrats; since then Maine has voted to replace a Republican senator with a Democrat, and Alaska will elect 2 senators Nov. 25. Thirty-three Senators are being elected Tuesday.

Best Opinion

The best available composite opinion of political writers and analysts and newspapermen who have been watching politics for many years gave the following anticipated result, in an Associated Press survey:

Democrats are favored to take 8 to 12 Republican seats in the Senate, they are expected to increase their House total by 17 to 40 or more, and could pick up 2 or so additional governorships.

The present House division, including vacancies, is 235 Democrats to 200 Republicans.

Of the 32 governorships at stake, 19 are in Democratic hands now, 13 in Republican. Over the country, including states whose governors are not up for election, the division is 29 Democrats and 19 Republicans.

497 Seats Sought

By The Associated Press

Voters Tuesday decide the complexion of the 86th Congress by electing 33 senators and 432 representatives. Also at stake are 32 governorships.

Maine has already voted —Sept. 8—electing a Democratic governor, senator, and two out of 3 representatives for a Democratic gain of one senator and one House member. Alaska elects a governor, two senators and a representative Nov. 25. Thus 36 senators, 436 House members and 34 governors are being elected this year.

Democrats, who have controlled two of 3 Congresses under President Eisenhower, count on increasing their present majorities. A majority in the next Senate will be 50 of 98, and the House 219 of 436. To win back control, Republicans would have to show a net gain of 3 senators and 19 House members.

Present Senate lineup: 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans, not counting Democratic gain already registered in Maine.

Present House lineup: 235 Democrats, 200 Republicans, including vacant seats last held by 3 Democrats and 5 Republicans. This omits Democratic gain of one in Maine.

Watch Early Returns From These States

THEY MAY OFFER CLUES TO TRENDS

By The Associated Press

Contests to watch for possible trends in early reporting states in Tuesday's elections:

SENATE

CONNECTICUT — Close, with election analysts giving an edge to Thomas J. Dodd (D) over Sen. William A. Purtell (R).

NEW JERSEY — Also close — too close to call between Harrison A. Williams (D) and Robert W. Kean (R) for a seat now held by GOP.

NEW YORK — Frank S. Hogan (D) is given a small lead over Kenneth B. Keating (R) for a Republican seat, but a big GOP margin for governor could turn the tide for Keating.

PENNSYLVANIA — George M. Leader (D) favored by the experts over Hugh Scott (R), but by a smaller margin than that forecast for the Democrats to retain the governorship. The Senate seat is now Republican.

WEST VIRGINIA — Both Republican seats are on the block. GOP in uphill fight to hold on to one, and could lose both.

VERMONT—If real Democratic sweep is in the making, it could show up early here with a good run by Frederick J. Fayette (D) against highly-favored Winston L. Prouty (R) for a seat voluntarily given up by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R).

GOVERNOR

MARYLAND — Experts leaning heavily toward J. Millard Tawes (D) over James P. S. Devereux (R) for seat now held by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin (R).

NEW YORK — Nelson Rockefeller (R) may nose out Gov. Averell Harriman (D) for a GOP gain.

OHIO — Democrat Michael V. DiSalle is favored by experts to beat Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill in a rematch. O'Neill licked DiSalle in 1956 by 427,000.

HOUSE

CONNECTICUT — Both parties will be watching the early tabulations here. Republicans now have a solid delegation of 6, and Democrats say they have a chance of picking up from one to 5 seats.

N.Y. Republicans Hopeful

Albany N.Y. (AP) — A forecast of sunny skies and snow-free roads gave the Republicans increased hope that Nelson A. Rockefeller, the pollsters' uneasy favorite, would oust Averell Harriman from New York's gubernatorial chair.

Four years ago, the Republicans said snow was a major factor in Harriman's slim victory as the Democratic candidate for governor, because rural dwellers in predominantly Republican upstate areas feared the trip to the polls. Harriman defeated Sen. Irving M. Ives by a mere 11,125 votes.

More than 5½ million voters — record for an election for governor — were expected to vote Tuesday in the contest between the scions of the Rockefeller oil empire and the Harriman railroad interests.

Hogan Favored

They also had to choose a successor for the U.S. Senate seat of Ives, who is retiring. In that race, Democrat Frank S. Hogan, longtime district attorney of Manhattan, was favored over Kenneth B. Keating, veteran Republican congressman from Rochester.

Although Rockefeller rated an edge in almost every pre-election poll and survey of the "Battle of the Millionaires," the outcome was by no means foreordained. Campaign chiefs on both sides were telling their workers privately that it would be close.

The doubtful factor was the apparently large bloc of voters who professed to be undecided. In some polls, the proportion ran as high as 20%.

Demo Landslide Seen

San Francisco (AP) — Republicans surged back with their own victory predictions to offset widespread Democratic talk of a landslide in California's bitterly-fought election.

The critical test centered on Sen. William F. Knowland and his relentless one-man battle for the governorship against signs of a Democratic tide in the second most populous state.

It hinges on the impact of Knowland's controversial labor program, his ability to attract the support of majority Democrats and the effect of his intra-party bickering with Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

Democrats expressed confidence Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown would overhwelm the Republican senator by one million or more votes. They expect to sweep all state offices, elect Rep. Clair Engle to the senate over Knight and gain one to 4 congressmen. The present house lineup is 17-13 Republican.

The Democrats were buoyed by estimates of a vote approaching 80%. They lead Republicans in registration by 1,199,000.

the request after Judge Spencer had allowed the state to endorse two additional witnesses as prosecution witnesses.

McArthur said he wanted time to investigate the witnesses.

testimony was necessary to help prove that Caril had opportunity to escape from Starkweather if she had wished.

At Service Station

Both reportedly were employed at a service station at 17th and Burnham where Starkweather and Caril stopped Jan. 27 to have Starkweather's car greased. This was shortly after the pair had left the Marion Bartlett home at 924 Belmont en route to Bennet.

The delay made it appear the prosecution's case will not be completed until Wednesday or Thursday.

Caril is charged with premeditated murder and with murder while in the perpetration of a robbery as Starkweather's accomplice in the death of Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, Jan. 27. Her attorney has claimed she was Starkweather's hostage on the crime rampage.

Nearly Hundred Helped Hartman

Carl Hartman, Democratic candidate for county clerk, said nearly a hundred volunteers had helped in his campaign, including distribution of 15,000 leaflets.

Hartman said his campaign has been "without personal animosity," but that "the important issue . . . has been the age of the incumbent, who should be honorably retired at the age of 81 and replaced with more youthful vigor in what is a job of work."

Mulatto Miner To Accept Free Holiday In Georgia

Springhill, N. S. (AP)— A mulatto miner said Monday he is willing to be segregated in Georgia. He and 18 fellow coal-diggers have been invited by Gov. Marvin Griffin to recuperate there from entombment in a collapsed colliery.

It will be the first time that Maurice Ruddick, his wife and 12 children, have had to live apart from white people.

His companions, trapped for days with him when No. 2 colliery was shaken by an underground upheavel, said they would accept the governor's invitation for an expense-free holiday only if Ruddick did.

To Follow 'Rules'

"I'll go along according to the rules and regulations," Ruddick told an interviewer.

"There is pressure in that part of the world and I wouldn't want to cause any international incident."

Gov. Griffin had said the 19 miners would be welcome as guests at the Jekyll Island park. But, Griffin said, Ruddick would have to accept segregated quarters for himself and family.

To Follow Ruddick

Most miners agreed that Ruddick's decision would be theirs.

Herbert Pepperdine, who survived with Ruddick in a small rock-enclosed chamber, said, "if he's good enough to work with us he's good enough to go on holidays.

"If he can't go we won't go."

Frank Hunter said he and his wife haven't been able to decide. Bowman Maddison said, "I want to go and if Maur (Ruddick) says it's okay we'll all go."

To Go Along

Hugh Guthro said he would go along with the majority decision. Doug Jewkes and Joe Holloway Jr. said they were looking forward to the free vacations and thought they would accept the invitation.

"We can't make laws in other countries," said Theodore Michniak. "Maurice and I worked together, we went to school together and we have to abide by the laws."

Joe McDonald may be unable to travel for at least 3 months but he said: "I'd like to go if the offer holds true when I'm able to go."

Western Union Asks Scale Down On Teletype Rate

Washington (UPI) — Western Union asked the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for permission to scale down its proposed interim increases in private line teletypewriter service rates by approximately two million dollars a year.

The company told the FCC the revised rates were designed to hike annual revenue an average 17%, or $5,500,000, and become effective Dec. 1. The proposal would replace a rate increase requested last Aug. 15 which the FCC later suspended.

Last Friday the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. scaled down its proposed teleprinter rate increases to yield additional annual revenue of about $8,400,000. AT&T said its new proposal would yield $2,600,000 less than its original request, also suspended by the FCC.

City To Put Walks On South Cotner

By Virgil Falloon

The City Council informally agreed Monday to direct the public works department to construct sidewalks on the west side of South Cotner from 48th to Sumner.

A resolution directing the construction by the city and assessment of costs against the property owners is to be prepared for Council action next Monday.

City officials said sidewalks on both sides of Cotner from 48th to South have been constructed as ordered except for a 3-block section.

Costs Cited

Property owners involved have cited excessive costs if the walks are built, but Sidewalk Inspector Mike Bourke presented city engineering estimates for half of the amounts contended.

Including sidewalks, driveway repairs and sodding, the highest individual cost was $315. Average cost for the section was $197 as compared with $350 average cited by an attorney representing the owners at a Council hearing earlier this year.

Property owners who have constructed walks have urged the sidewalk project along the street be brought to completion, according to city officials.

In other action, the Council took under consideration the proposed construction of a sidewalk along Van Dorn between Winthrop Road and 33rd across the Rock Island railroad tracts.

$1,517 Estimate

Estimated city cost for the walk and necessary drainage improvement was $1,517.50. The Council indicated the area would be viewed next week.

Residents of the area have asked the walk across the tracks and through Memorial Park be constructed because of the school-children traffic to several nearby schools.

The Council also said its order for sidewalks on both sides of Ryons at the legal line would stand.

Bourke reported if one side of the street was allowed curb sidewalks, the other side wanted it, too.

Street Dept. Storage Site Is Acquired

Acquisition of a 33rd and Baldwin site for a future City Street Department storage building and area is now complete, Public Works Director D. L. Erickson reported to the City Council Monday.

The new site would replace city property at 46th and Walker, sale of which has been authorized by the voters.

Erickson said the new site, 555 by 206 feet fronts on the northside of Baldwin from 33rd to 35th. Its acquisition cost was $7,200.

Building plans for the new site will not be developed until the city property at 48th and Walker is sold. City officials have estimated its business location value in excess of $35,000.

Sale proceeds would be used to finance a new storage building at 33rd and Baldwin to provide much needed cover for street department equipment.

Erickson urged early sale of the 48th and Walker property, but subject to a possession date of about Sept. 1, 1959.

Airman Charged With Knife Death He Almost Forgot

Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. (UPI)—A young airman will go before a court martial Tuesday for the knife slaying of a young German woman, a crime that he admittedly had "almost forgotten about."

Airman Wallace Millard Wheeler is charged with the murder of Feleciteas Georg, 20, in her Weisbaden, Germany apartment, Oct. 20, 1957.

Wheeler was arrested in Pensacola, Fla., where his parents live, March 26. Supt. of identification Walter E. Steinsiek Jr., said the youth admitted the stabbing.

Wheeler was traced through an artist's sketch of the man last seen leaving the apartment. Investigators said they found the murder weapon in Wheeler's apartment in Washington, where he was working. He was visiting Pensacola when arrested and told officers he "had the desire to kill her," after waking up in her apartment.

Sec. Dulles Said In Good Health After D.C. Check

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles was pronounced in excellent health Monday on this 2nd anniversary of his cancer operation.

The State Department made public the findings of Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, head of the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, after Dulles underwent a weekend medical checkup.

"All tests are negative for any possible recurrence of the original colon lesion which was removed on Nov. 3, 1956," the department announced.

Besides reporting no sign of any flare-up of the old intestinal cancer, the announcement said Dulles "continues to maintain an excellent state of health." Dr. Heaton was described as "very pleased by the results of the tests."

Barney's Convinced

London (AP)—Old timers in London's Child's Hill District have long held there is an underground river in the neighborhood. Auto racing driver Barney Bradfield thinks they're right. Bradfield parked his car on a street in the area. When he went back to the spot he was told: "There's a hole full of water where your car used to be." Police hauled it out and street maintenance authorities said maybe the underground river story was confirmed.

Walker Zoning Change Laid Over To Await Inspection

The City Council Monday laid over a proposed zoning change for both sides of Walker from 48th to 54th following a public hearing on third reading.

No one appeared in opposition to the multiple-dwelling zone change, but several Council members wanted to tour the area before final decision is made.

The City Planning Commission recommended the proposed zoning change in connection with the zoning request by Delta Zeta Sorority for a chapter house site at 51st and Walker.

Eye Expansion

The greater area was included by the Commission because of indicated future expansion of the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus.

Several councilmen indicated opinions that the zoning change should be extended only as far as 51st.

In other action, the Council set a Dec. 11 hearing on the building inspector's recommendation that residential property at 422-24 So. 11th be condemned because of health and safety considerations.

The Council also ordered two taverns to show cause on Nov. 17 why their licenses should not be suspended because of alleged sales to minors.

Cited were the Gold Dust Tavern at 901 O and The Lodge at 2135-37 O.

In other action, the transfer of an off-and on sale beer license to Robert L. and Norma J. Klein for the Pines at 123 No. 14th was approved. Present licensee is Mrs. Faith A. Bird. The transfer, with state liquor commission approval, is expected to be made about No. 7.

A $59,789 contract award for the construction of the Antelope Creek bridge at 40th was made to Capital Bridge Co. The estimate was $60,000.

Council action on the following ordinances was:

Introduced, 1st Reading

All Council members were present for afternoon meeting and morning session except Alfred DuTeau, excused for vacation.

Wheel Seemed Stuck—Airliner Circles Omaha

Omaha (UPI) — A Braniff International Airways plane with 11 passengers and a 3-man crew circled the Omaha municipal airport for 15 minutes Monday night as instruments showed its landing gear was locked in the "up" position.

Pilot Forrest Hall said the panel indicator showed the nose wheel to be locked in the fuselage and seemed to refuse to go down.

But after circling the tower twice, it was determined the gear was in operating order and a successful landing was made although emergency landing procedures were followed and crash teams were standing by.

It was Braniff Flight 158 from Kansas City, due at Omaha at 6:51 p.m.

Washington (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler called for a lot of votes—Republican as well as Democratic.

"The nation will be strengthened by a big vote," Butler said in an election eve statement. "It will demonstrate to the rest of the world the vigor of our democracy and the growing interest of the American people in public affairs."

House Unit Warns Congress Will Clamp Down On Secrecy In Government

. . . Hearing On Air Force Set

Washington (UPI) — The House Information subcommittee warned that Congress will clamp down on administration officials who "continue to worship at the shrine of secrecy."

The statement was contained in a report summing up the subcommittee's two-year effort to improve the flow of government information to the public.

The House group plans to open two days of hearings next week involving the Air Force and charges of withholding information from Congress.

The report said that "as the extent of excessive secrecy in the federal government has been unfolded in subcommittee hearings, the 85th Congress has acted to protect the right of access to information in specific areas."

'Censors'

But the subcommittee said the fact Congress had acted only in specific areas did not mean "federal officials are free to set themselves up as censors in areas where the law may be silent."

"Those executive officers who continue to worship at the shrine of secrecy" should heed as a warning the actions already taken by Congress, the report said.

The subcommittee said the 85th Congress struck these blows for freedom of information:

—Abolishment of the Commerce Department's Office of Strategic Information, which it called "an agency created by the executive branch to censor non-security information."

'Housekeeping' Law

—Passage of the 1st federal "Freedom of Information Law" forbidding use of a 169-year old "housekeeping" statute as an excuse by government agencies for withholding information.

—"Blocking an attempt by the executive branch to throttle military leaders who are directed by law to give their expert opinions to Congress."

—Inclusion of a precedent-making freedom-of-information provision in the law establishing the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"In a democratic society the people have a basic right to information about their government," the subcommittee said.

Businessmen Fete Farmers At Fairbury

Lincoln Star Special

Fairbury, Neb. — A large part of 400 pounds of ham, 125 apple pies and 500 cigars were consumed Monday night by the 400 farmer guests of Fairbury businessmen.

The occasion was the 9th annual Farmer-Businessmen banquet at the high school auditorium. Hosts were 52 Fairbury businessmen—each with 9 guests at his table.

Guest speaker was former U. S. Senate Josh Lee of Oklahoma. In between jokes and quips he urged each of the guests to take advantage of the opportunities he has to build his own community.

"The reason you can't see the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow is that you are standing in the rainbow and the gold is all around you," he advised.

Robert V. Denney was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Claire Geibert of the Fairbury American Lutheran Church gave the invocation. Chamber of Commerce President A. F. Herfkin welcomed the guests and farmer George Junker gave the response.

U.S. Barbers Meet, Seek $2 Haircuts

A resolution adopted at the convention of the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of America calls for a minimum $2 fee for men's haircuts, Ted Spahnle reported at a Monday meeting of the local Master Barbers Assn.

Spahnle was the local delegate to the convention, held in Minneapolis and attended by about 1,500.

Recognizing the pressure of increasing costs, convention delegates agreed to fight for the $2 price for men's haircuts and a charge of at least $5 for a woman's haircut, shampoo and set, Spahnle reported.

Lincoln Association President Ray Wittrock stressed that the resolution for a uniform 5-day week for members here was still a part of the minutes of the association and had not been officially abandoned despite instances of non-compliance.

About 70% of the local barbers are members of the association.

Need Practice

St. Louis (AP) — A lot of people were suspicious even though the opportunity to buy 25 twodollar bills for $95 struck them as a bargain.

Gary Stigall, in charge of the Secret Service Office here, said he received several telephone calls from prospective purchasers.

The packages of two-dollar bills were marked "surplus."

Stigall said his agents were unable to find where a federal law had been violated. The agents decided it was a practical joke and advised the callers to practice multiplying 25 by two.

Competition And Capitalism

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One hears a lot these days about the American way of doing things. Included in this American way is the system of free and open competition. This is the method of capitalism wherein business and industry are owned and operated by private money. It is a fine thing but it works, sometimes, in odd fashion.

Branch Banking Proposal

In neighboring Missouri, voters will decide this Tuesday on a state constitutional amendment which would permit branch banking in the state. It would mean that a bank could have its main offices and customer facilities at one location and another smaller establishment away from the main building. The idea is pushed as free and open competition. It permits a bank to spread its operations out and offer its facilities to more people. It may well be free competition but the smaller banks are concerned that it might put them out of business.

A larger institution could locate a branch next to a suburban bank, for instance, and soon have the smaller operator begging for mercy. The smaller bank could well be out of business in a short period of time. It may be free competition, but it isn't very humanitarian.

Nor does such a process promote capitalism. On the other hand, it tends to destroy capitalism by centering of the wealth of the nation in the hands of fewer and fewer people. Thus, there are some changes taking place under the guise of democracy which are actually more feudalistic or aristocratic than capitalistic.

Another example of this was given in Lincoln when Ray Cowperthwaite, president of the National Association of Retail Grocers of the United States, addressed members of the Nebraska Food Retailers Association. There are no longer any independent grocery retailers, he said, because the grocerymen have become community retailers, dependent on wholesalers and other members of the grocery industry.

The small neighborhood grocer has been forced out of business. Once he has lost his business property, he has lost his status as a capitalist in the sense of the word as it should be understood. Certainly the decline and fall of the small grocery store can be viewed as a result of free and open competition.

Who would ever have said that the big chain store operations should have been controlled and prohibited from bringing about this change when the movement started? Even now that it is in existence, it would be hard to say that the new system is bad.

The same thing is happening on the farm today where the move is away from the small independent farmer and to the large mass producer. Again, there are the human considerations involved but they are only a part of what is happening. It is anybody's guess as to where the final end will leave us.

Bigness Has Its Problems

There is certainly no denying that the move toward bigness in all business and industry and the concentration of wealth in a few hands has brought some immediate problems. Inflation is one of these problems. Mass production, mass buying and mass retailing have undoubtedly raised this nation's standard of living but they have also added a lot to the cost of the things we buy. And the standard of living is a comparative thing. It means not only how well you are living today but your position in comparison with that of your neighbor.

If the advances that are being made on the principle of free competition continue to widen the gap between classes in America and continue to concentrate the economic power of the country in a shrinking segment of the population, one might wonder what the eventual results will be. We have no particular answer at this time but it would seem that the real elements of capitalism would be as vital to protect as the idea of free and open competition.

A Day For Decision

Whatever might be said about today's election, it must be called a day for decision. Voters who might have been wavering one way and then the other in past weeks or months will have to take a firm position this Tuesday. They will have to decide between a host of candidates for office and propositions having an effect upon government and their lives.

According to the forecasts, the election is something of an anti-climax. The final counting of ballots is expected to do nothing but prove advance predictions of a Democratic landslide nationally and a Republican sweep in Nebraska. This might be viewed as an indictment, in a way, of the voting public but it might also be a compliment.

It could mean that voters simply are not swayed by loud campaigning which is often a long way from the truth. It is hoped, at least, that this is the case rather than the fact that voters always do the same thing, regardless of the issues or candidates. It is hoped that it is not the old straight party voter who makes it so easy to predict the election's outcome.

It seems at times that it is useless and a waste of time to urge people to exercise their right to vote and to do so intelligently. But, it is too vital a thing to overlook, even at the risk of repetitious boredom. No one knows what it would take to bring out a really big number of voters so until that magic formula is discovered, the only alternative is to emphasize the importance of voting and the responsibility it places upon all citizens.

Not a single qualified voter should let advance predictions keep him from the polls. Your vote counts and always will, no matter what the final outcome might be. The best thing for every voter to do is to act on election day on the possibility of one vote being the difference between approval or rejection of an issue and victory or defeat for a candidate.

The Real Stakes

The great decision of November for most of us will take place today in the off-year elections.

But for the Nebraska corn farmer the general election is only the first of two pivotal decisions which will send him to the polls for a second time November 25.

On this later date he will be called upon to decide which of two corn programs he would like for 1959.

The Department of Agriculture has offered a continuation of its past program with support prices based upon the principle of parity, coupled with even more austere limitations of planted acres at support prices down to the floor or near the floor of the parity range, bottom of which is 75% of parity.

The alternative is unlimited production with a 90% price support, based not on parity but on the average market price for corn during the immediately preceding three years. There is a stop loss provision that guarantee's against a support price fall below 65% of parity.

At this juncture it appears that the lure of unlimited production plus the belief that the past three years market average will furnish a support price at $1.12 a bushel, give or take a few cents, will be sufficient to win the majority of referendum votes.

Somehow, lost in the thinking on this two-horned deal is the fact that a vote for all out production requires the jettisoning of the parity principle, plus the inevitable fact that any price support based upon an over supplied market will decline as the years pass by.

But perhaps more poignant in this grabbing at straws is that a majority vote for unlimited production will gain the non-compliers little if anything over what they now have, but it will deny the benefits of compliance to those producers who wish to comply. The non-compliers are already producing on whatever acres they wish and for several years they have been receiving price supports only a little less than the compliers.

The whole thing has the appearance of offering a few transitory pennies for the greatest birthright in the corn producers possession — the parity principle; that plus the abandonment of the right of choice which is a principle for which the farmers say they are fighting.

A Different Approach

As the East and West move closer together again in what is heralded as a renewed look at nuclear test suspension, rank and file opinion is voting the effort as the piece of international negotiation least likely to succeed.

Such negotiations are blighted from the start because they are initiated by whichever side currently has the biggest book on past test information, and because the other side does not dare end the game behind the eight ball.

The Russians currently are much cooler toward a cessation of tests than they were a couple of years ago when they had just completed a series of tests for information they believed we didn't have, and would just as soon we never learned. They are not sure but that our recent series of tests have given us an advantage. Such an attitude, more or less held by both sides, is not the stuff that real agreements are made of.

The pending talks are further being complicated by an expression of intention by the Atomic Energy Commission to use the hydrogen bomb to clear an undersea channel to Alaska. Such an employment of nuclear force would be outside the realm of military considerations, but not outside the general objection to bomb tests on the grounds of dangerous fallout and contamination.

In the light of these hard inconsistencies perhaps it would be better to approach the nuclear question less with a view of getting a cessation agreement, which seems impracticable at this stage, than to work for joint tests where it is agreed that such tests would serve the world's welfare and avoid direct benefits to military rivalry.

DREW PEARSON

Ike Was No Help To Nixon's Cause

LOS ANGELES — The American people may select the next president of the United States today without realizing it. For today's balloting will demonstrate the presidential polling power of leading candidates in both parties . . . Nelson Rockefeller is sailing upstream against the Democratic tide in New York, while Vice President Nixon apparently has failed to stem the Democratic tide in California. This means that, with the old Tom Dewey machine oiled and ready to go, Rockefeller is a natural for 1960. That's why Nixon is campaigning so hard. He wants to present an image of a tough, tireless, loyal party worker to future delegates . . .In California the sweeping victory expected for Pat Brown will give him presidential stature overnight . . .

. . . Sen. Hubert Humphrey's presidential ambitions are riding on the Minnesota election although he isn't personally running. His fortunes may depend on whether he can elect Congressman Gene McCarthy to the Senate . . . In New Jersey, Governor Meyner's presidential hopes may also be tied to the success of the Democratic senatorial candidate, Harrison Williams. The governor has placed his prestige on the line to elect Williams in a tight race . . . Another Williams, Gov. "Soapy" Williams, is campaigning vigorously for his sixth term in Michigan.

As the campaign ends, Vice President Nixon is barely speaking to President Eisenhower. He bitterly resents having to carry the main load of the election campaign with only an occasional assist from Ike. He feels that if Eisenhower had started slugging earlier, the results of the election could have been very different.

What especially burns Nixon up is an incident in Colorado while the President was en route to California. After campaigning for weeks, Nixon was ordered to bed by his doctor to rest for two days at Colorado Springs. Eisenhower was then visiting in Denver, yet he never bothered to phone Nixon to ask how he was and how the campaign was progressing.

Nixon considers this proof positive that Eisenhower is politically unconscious and may wind up wrecking instead of saving the Republican party. Nixon has also just about come to the conclusion that Harold Stassen's campaign to dump him as vice president in '56 had Sherman Adams' backing and probably that of Eisenhower too.

On top of all this, Life Magazine has offered Sherman Adams $200,000 for his memoirs. The man who might suffer most from these memoirs is Nixon. Twice Adams moved to prevent Nixon from assuming increased power when the President was sick, and the inside story of these hassles may now be told.

Cabinet Men Are Stay-At-Homes

WASHINGTON—The most provocative of the Eisenhower cabinet absentees from the hustings are Attorney General William P. Rogers and the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Arthur S. Flemming. Though they are perhaps the least known personally, the work of their departments today has powerful, immediate emotional impact on important voting blocs.

The attorney general is the leading administration figure in the civil rights field. While there are some things he could not with propriety do or say, there is much that he could—or so Republican candidates in the big industrial states believe.

Rogers has made relatively few appearances and pleads the press of legal affairs as his reason. His present political coyness is the more interesting because he is widely accepted as Vice President Nixon's most intimate friend and was the impresario of the famous Checkers telecast.

Only last week was Flemming used at all. He went to Ohio and Minnesota to help in the last desperate efforts to hold the seats of Senators John Bricker and Edward J. Thye.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is true that Flemming is new at his post, but he is not new to government or to the Eisenhower administration. He could talk off the top of his head about Washington.

His has not been a dynamic arm of the Eisenhower administration and it has occasionally been controversial, as in the Salk vaccine slowdown. But it has made some advances that would make powerful political medicine for which credit could be claimed. At all times it has been conducted with dignity.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, always more helpful with business than the general public, spoke up once too often in favor of a national sales tax. He has now been replaced by Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Strauss appointment followed hard on the heels of a sudden promotion of Rear Admiral Hyman Rickover, the Navy's atomic wizard and stormy petrel. New York is saying that the administration attentions to Strauss and Rickover represent a bow toward the big Jewish vote there in an effort to help Nelson Rockefeller become governor.

The pros would recognize this as legitimate and only wonder why the White House did not take more pains to butter up the customers in such painless little ways.

☆ ☆ ☆

In one way, cabinet members are better able to help congressional campaigners than the President and vice president. The various secretaries get a constant stream of requests for help in local projects and on local issues. They learn much about the different parts of the country and its problems; there is much they can acceptably do for a candidate if they will take the trouble.

The GOP campaigners who must bear the heat and burden of the day have cause to complain that they have had so little help in their present dire need.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This is to assure Star readers that the "Citizens Committee" whose letter appeared in the Monday morning paper is not the "Citizens Street Improvement Committee." The Citizens Street Improvement Committee is not backing any candidate for office but is interested only in promoting the wheel tax, believing it to be the most equitable program for raising money for Lincoln's vitally needed street improvement program.

Age Factor

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I would like to ask the following questions of Lancaster County voters before they cast their ballots for county clerk. Would you hire an 81-year-old man to manage your own business? If the answer is "no," what makes you think the county's business isn't your business? Or don't you pay taxes?

Board Of Control

Lincoln, Neb:

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

I should like to state briefly why I am supporting the amendment to authorize the legislature to provide method to manage, control and govern the institutions now under the Board of Control system.

The present system was set up in 1912 when there was little emphasis on cure of the mentally ill and other unfortunate handicapped persons. For the most part, they were merely fed, clothed and sheltered. There was little attempt made to rehabilitate the lawbreaker. Fewer institutions were included in the system.

Is it not reasonable to believe that some changes may be advisable in the light of new developments in institutional care during the last 46 years?

No basic changes may be made now because the provisions governing all of these institutions are frozen in the Constitution.

In addition to all of the duties relating to 18 institutions, the 3-member Board of Control acts as the State Board of Public Welfare in charge of the public assistance programs of the state.

Let's follow the pattern of other states which have adopted progressive systems which can respond to changing times and circumstances.

Voting Habit

Avoca, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Nebraska segment of the Hoover-Eisenhower followers seem to have gone haywire since the middle 30's, in that they have adopted the slogan of voting traditionally. Worthy causes are not concerned. Only the party is concerned and winning a hollow victory is just as conciliatory to them as it is to their own enemies. This type of voting originated during the superior and continued leadership of President Franklin Roosevelt, which isolated the GOP over a period of time. They don't want this to happen again and that seems to be how and why for this trend toward traditional voting, although they received more benefits, rights and relief under President Roosevelt than any other president. In addition to this, he rescued them from being completely Hooverized. All this they accepted willingly, and asked for more.

There has been the habit of lambasting and slandering that precede all major elections. All this and more to come doesn't speak very well for a system, regardless.

Frank Morrison

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I want to appeal to readers of all parties to forget the familiar voting habits of the past and join in electing Frank Morrison as senator from Nebraska on his qualifications. We need his courageous voice to represent the particular interests of our state and region. And Congress, the nation, and the free world need the kind of leadership he can give.

I sincerely believe that this man is marked for potential greatness if given the opportunity. His election would provide insight and backbone to the upper house at a time when the Congress has all but abdicated its role as co-author of national policy by endorsing, often in advance, some of the most recklessly dangerous moves a high-flying secretary of state and a pedestrian President could come up with.

Frank Morrison knows and tells the voters that Quemoy and Matsu are practically indefensible and not ours to defend. He has pointed out, too, that if we go to war for these pathetic Chinese rock-piles, we go alone and we risk nuclear catastrophe when we do it. Sen. Hruska would take this risk, he says. If the so-brave senator, noblest Roman of them all, had sons of military age, as I do, I wonder if he would risk their young lives to defend China from the Chinese only four miles away.

It takes intellectual guts to oppose John Foster Dulles and his brinkmanship just now, for it is being misinterpreted to the well-intentioned and the gullible all over America by the Hruskas, the Nixons, and the rest of the bloody-shirt-waving crusaders as statesmanship, to which it bears no recognizable resemblance. I am grateful that we have in Frank Morrison a candidate who can tell the difference.

Bingo Issue

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I find myself somewhat surprised that no one so far, in the controversy about legalizing bingo, has produced the one most serious argument against it. I think this point should be made before election day.

Most of the objectors have declared that bingo is gambling, and therefore immoral. The defenders argue that it is a cheap and harmless pastime, capable of providing small thrills for impecunious senior citizens.

Neither group, apparently, is aware that in those states where bingo has been legalized it has contributed heavily to the profits of organized, or syndicate, gambling —claimed by U.S. government agencies to be operated by one or more nationwide organizations of undesirable citizens. A great many (to be sure, probably not all) bingo games are run by known gamblers under the guise of aiding churches and charities; the churches get a percentage of the takings, but the bulk of the profits goes to the promoters—most of whom are neither charitable nor pious.

In the states where this unequal (and degenerative) division of profits takes place, no one seems to care, so long as the common people can have their "harmless" gambling, and the churches and charities are pleased at having at least a dribble of money that would otherwise not come their way.

I think we should care. I don't mind my grandparents' gambling as "immoral"; I do mind their supporting Frank Costello and Company.

The Claims

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A little analyzing of Ike's glowing claims of Republican achievements:

(1) He cites the small gain in employment recently. As he puts it, an example of Republican progress, ignoring the fact of large unemployment.

(2) That they had successfully lessened world tension. Dulles is still balancing on the brink and could go over at any time by some minor accident or mistake.

(3) The claim we had caught up in the rocket and missile field. The shot at the moon was taken as proof. A little comparing, then one can judge for himself whether we have cuaght up or not. To date we have sent up a payload of 40 pounds with a 150,000-pound rocket thrust. Here is the mark we have to shoot for to equal Russia — a 3,000-pound payload with an 850,000-pound rocket thrust.

Evil Trend

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Bingo is one of the most dangerous forms of gambling. Because it is gambling, it creates a thirst for more gambling. It violates the commandment against covetousness. Because we continually seek to get something for nothing. More than we give. Profit without value.

Bingo is dangerous because it teaches mass gambling. Men and women, old and young. One visits the gambling halls of Las Vegas, Nevada, and finds masses of fiery-eyed participants in every bingo room.

All gambling is anti-social. Poker is a game where fellows meet to "cut each other up." Like Ishmael, every man's hand is against every other. Bingo is similar except the games are bigger. The principle is exactly the same.

Proponents of bingo insist that it is innocent because "it is no worse than playing the ponies." Here we are simply comparing one evil with another. Graduates of bingo easily become horse-players, roulette and stud poker. It differs in form but not in content. If we vote for bingo, let us realize clearly that we are voting for a dangerous extension of the exemption against the gambling laws of the state.

And yet, bingo is going to carry unless the good people who are against gambling put more drive into their campaign against this evil. It was a sad day in 1934 when we legalized pari mutuel betting. Now we use it as an argument for another form of gambling. Step by step we break down all the barriers against one of the great national evils. Each step furnishes and added argument for more gambling.

I pray that on election day the good people of Nebraska will stop this evil tendency in its tracks.

Urban Renewal

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have had enough accusations hurled against me by my opponent for the Legislature in the 19th District and by C. O. Blanchard, Winnifred Lewis and their so-called Citizens Committee, and to clear this all up by my constituents, I thought it only my duty to explain it—the truth!

That LB 431 — urban renewal — is not made to evict people from their homes and it will not raise the over-all taxes of property owners, but will make the land used in urban renewal more valuable for tax purposes. This is good legislation and will prove so in the future. The only opposition to this legislation when passed was a group of about six people. We must advance in Lincoln or become stagnant, for we all know that industry will not come into a town that is backward.

Also, most of my family and friends live in the 19th District, so for what reason would I be such an ogre and impose such a piece of bad legislation against them? If there is any doubt on urban renewal, the thing to do is ask someone who is level-headed and a progressive thinker.

I am appealing now to the intelligent clear-thinking voter of the 19th District.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"Emily won a medal for the best posture in the whole school."

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The Mexico City film festival is about over. Have not seen much of the festival. But I have met some interesting people.

In our sunny and flowered patio in the morning, M. Guadart comes out and sets up his cameras. M. Guadart is a French director.

When the camera is set beside the fountain, he calls out Suzanna Veyda.

Suzanna Veyda is blond, voluptuous and the apple of every Mexican eye. She is 17. She has long lashes and eyes that run over you like roller-skates.

"She ees a sensation," said M. Gaudart. "She cannot travel weethout guards. The othair night, 20 men leaped out of the balcony at her."

"Are you her agent, Mr. Gaudart?"

"I am her adopted fathair. I adopt her een Canada."

"Why did you do that?"

"She 'ave great future in peectures. I see her peecture and I go to her fathair and mothair and I adopt her."

☆ ☆ ☆

M. Gaudart brought out Miss Veyda's press clipping book. It was full of peectures of Miss Veyda in languorous poses.

It looked a good deal like any 17-year-old girl's scrapbook to me. Full of souvenirs. Match covers, peectures, Even old hotel bills.

The patio is full of stern-looking young men. They are the bodyguard.

"She ees elected Queen of the students at the Univairseety," said Mr. Gaudart. "The students provide the bodyguard. Police are not enough. When she go on the street, the men leap on her car. They jump out from the windows. She ees a sensation."

☆ ☆ ☆

The sensation rolled her eyes and her curves. She is a little chubby, as a matter of fact—but that is no drawback in Latin America. In Mexico they do not care for short weight.

In front of my crazy-house hotel, Miss Veyda parks her silver MG.

"She make enough in one week to buy thees car," said Father Gaudart prodly.

We made a little radio tape with Miss Veyda. She said she loved Mexico. Her reception had been wonderful. She loved everybody.

"Do you drive the car, Miss Veyda? It is always in front of the hotel."

"I do not have the license yet," she said.

☆ ☆ ☆

Miss Veyday stood up and stretched. Her curves leaped to attention. So did the bodyguards. She weaved out the door with the students in attendance.

M. Gaudart settled back with a happy sigh.

"What will you do if she gets married, Mr. Gaudart?"

"Besides I make the adoption," he said, "I also make the five-year contract. Ees very good."

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

O'Neill-Omaha Freight Rates On Hay, Straw Reduced 8c

An 8-cent reduction in freight rates on hay and straw hauled from O'Neill to Omaha was granted the Chicago and North Western Railway Monday by the State Railway Commission.

Previous to the rate reduction, which goes into immediate effect, a rate of 28c per hundred pounds was charged by the railroad on its shipments of hay and straw from O'Neill to Omaha the Commission said. The new rate will be 20c per hundred pounds.

The Commission said the reduction was granted in order that the railroad might meet motor carrier competition which has taken over 50% of the railroad's hay and straw shipping business from O'Neill.

On other freight rate matters, the Commission authorized all railroads operating in Nebraska to make a 3% increase in rates on tank car shipments of anhydrous ammonia, in shipments not less than 50,000 pounds.

The commission authorized the Railway Express Agency, Inc., to discontinue service at South Bayard and Endicott, bringing to 29 the Railway Express service stops eliminated in Nebraska within the past month or so.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, won commission approval to extend slightly its rate base area outside the corporate limits of Wakefield.

The telephone firm also was granted commission authority to allow Nebraskans possessing colored hand telephones to have the same type phones installed any place within the entire Bell system without an installation fee.

The commission granted Braniff Airways, Inc., authority to make its round trip fare between Omaha and Lincoln exactly double its single fare.

Your YES ☒ VOTE

MEANS
NO!
Against HIGHER PROPERTY TAXES
Vote YES—on the small ballot

The kind of Taxation THAT HURTS

★ Every Man, Woman and Child Who Owns A Motor Vehicle Pays the Vehicle Tax To Build and Maintain the Streets He or She Uses

People too poor to own cars, too old to drive cars, or so unfortunately crippled that they do not drive a car, WOULD and SHOULD ESCAPE a "wheel tax." But many do own a modest home and would suffer if an additional property tax was forced on the City Council to get street improvements.

SAFETY

★ There Will Be Less Traffic On Residential Streets

Many natural arterials are so poorly surfaced and so narrow that the traffic they should be handling is dumped on what should be quiet residential streets. Randolph Street with its ancient pavement and its horse-and-buggy width is possibly the worst example. But there are other cases almost as bad. Widened and resurfaced natural arterials will put the traffic back where it belongs.

WHEEL TAX Saves Money

★ A Wheel Tax Automatically Grows Bigger Every Year Without Increasing the $4 Basic Tax

The first year, 1959, will probably yield $225,000 according to the best estimates of city planners. This grows larger each year by the increase in the number of motor vehicles licensed in Lincoln. By 1975 the wheel tax would yield about $396,000 a year. And this without raising the basic rate of $4. The above is the estimate engineers have given us.

A FAIR TAX

★ Many Renters Will Vote For The Vehicle Tax

These people recognize that the small property tax they would pay on their cars is not their fair share of the cost of maintaining and improving our streets.

HOLDING GRIEVANCES

Won't Build Streets

The Citizen's ordinance on the ballot has NO RELATION to any grievances you may have. You will be voting for or against street improvements.

★ Neighborhood Streets Will Get More Money

By resurfacing, widening and rebuilding heavy Traffic Arterial Streets money now used for their maintenance cost will be released for neighborhood streets. The big streets won't hog the street maintenance funds as they do now.

★ You Will Get Better and Prompter Maintenance of Residential Streets

One of the most important results of the widening and resurfacing of our arterials will be the release annually of thousands of dollars which can be used for streets in the residential areas. At present thousands are being poured into patching streets which are 30 years old and even older. But they carry the heavy traffic and must have first call on maintenance funds and services.

John XXIII To Be Crowned Tuesday

. . . He Will Become 262nd Catholic Pontiff

Vatican City (AP)—Pope John XXIII will be crowned the Roman Catholic Church's 262nd supreme pontiff Tuesday amid the colorful panoply of centuries.

St. Peter's Basilica, scene of the 4-hour ceremony, glittered with red damask and gold and the flash of thousands of electric lights.

Dignitaries from the free nations of the world have gathered for the glittering event, as their predecessors did in centuries past.

But for the first time in history, equipment of the electronic age was readied to bring the medieval pageantry to millions throughout the world.

A European television hookup will broadcast the ancient ceremony, from initial obeisance of the cardinals to the final crowning of the pope on the exterior balcony of St. Peter's Basilica.

Ready For Cameras

Inside the basilica itself, a battery of tripods was in place, ready for cameras that will be trained on the white damask throne, just about 40 feet away, where Pope John XXIII will be seated during much of the ceremony.

Other equipment was in place to record and broadcast the progress of the intricate ceremony as it develops from the portico of the Basilica, then into the Basilica and finally on the balcony of St. Peter's for the triumphant crowning.

Hundreds of thousands will assemble in St. Peter's Square to witness this part of the ceremony. It will be concluded by the pontiff's blessing of "urbi et orbi" — to the city of Rome and to the world.

New York (AP) — Two major American networks will carry a running radio account of the coronation of Pope John XXIII in St. Peter's Basilica Tuesday.

The National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System announced they will broadcast the 4-hour ceremony, which occurs in the early morning hours for Americans. NBC scheduled coverage for 3:30-7:30 a.m. (EST), and CBS from 3:15 a.m. to the conclusion, expected about 7:30 a.m.

The American Broadcasting Co. and the Mutual network will have special programs giving high-lights of the ceremonies — ABC from 8:15 to 8:55 a.m. (EST) and Mutual from 3:35 p.m. to 4 p.m. (EST).

In Lincoln, KOLN-TV announced it would carry peak moments of the pomp and pageantry in St. Peter's Square for the coronation of Pope John XXIII Wednesday morning between 9 and 10 a. m.

'Honest Firms Could Ask Adjustment'

. . . Says Lienemann

County Commissioner Del Lienemann stated Monday that business firms filing honest tax returns "could ask for an adjustment of tax because they could prove beyond all shadow of doubt that they are not being taxed the same as their competitor or other business firms."

As part of a series of reports on professional and business personal property tax, now about 80% complete, he pointed out that "the taxpayer who has been honest is paying for his honesty because no effort has been made to see that all business firms who have inventories are treated the same."

"The catch in the law is that to equalize and treat all alike, the public officials entrusted with this responsibility must do the equalizing," he added.

In one business firm classification, only 20% filed the form (2A) requiring the listing of the federal income tax inventory. Sixty per cent of the firms in the category filed no inventory, and another 10% did not file any business schedule, Lienemann said.

With verification of records 80% complete, Lienemann reported that 285 firms have not filed Form 2A; 86 not only failed to file Form 2A but also should have filed an inventory and did not; and at least 75 firms' schedules have not been located in searching the records.

Busline Lost On Skeleton Iowa Run

Des Moines (AP) — The strike-bound American Bus Lines has lost money on its skeleton service between Des Moines and Shenandoah but is willing to continue it, the Iowa Commerce Commission was told Monday.

Merton Ephraim of Fairfield, general sales manager of the company, said it would consider opening another line between Des Moines and Ottumwa pending settlement of the strike.

Company officials appeared before the commission under an order to show cause why American's operating permits shouldn't be revoked.

Shut Down July 1

The bus firm, shut down by a strike of its union employes since July 1, started the Des Moines-Shenandoah run last Monday after the commission had ordered it to resume service under penalty of possibly losing its Iowa routes. The bus firm normally serves 116 towns in southern Iowa.

After Monday's hearing the commission said it regarded American's partial resumption of service as an indication of good health. It added that it will hand down a formal ruling as soon as possible.

Problems

Ephraim said some of the problems American has encountered in trying to resume service included:

In the first week of operation of one bus each way daily between Des Moines and Shenandoah, the firm has incurred a loss totaling $607.

Greyhound Bus Lines has informed American it will not honor interline tickets sold by American agents. Ephraim said he was informed union bus drivers of Greyhound have refused to handle passengers or express from American's buses. He said Greyhound also refuses to sell tickets calling for transfer to any American route.

H. E. Roberts, of Omaha, general manager of American's eastern lines, said buses on the Des Moines-Shenandoah line carried a total of 136 passengers in the first 6 days of operation. It had revenue from carrying merchandise of only $17 during that period, he said.

Ex-Wife Of Actor Sterling Hayden Denies 6 'Affairs'

Los Angeles (UPI) — The former wife of actor Sterling Hayden denied his charges she had affairs with 6 men while awaiting her final divorce decree from him 3 years ago.

Mrs. Betty Ann Hayden, in a Superior Court affidavit, accused the 42-year-old actor of "false accusations." Hayden charged last week Mrs. Hayden had affairs with "approximately" 6 men.

Mrs. Hayden said the dispute arose when Hayden wanted to take their 4 children, Christian, 10; Dana, 9; Gretchen, 8, and Mathew, 6, on a film-making trip around the world in his schooner.

Gas War Goes Into 2nd Week; No End Seen

Lincoln's gas war entered its second week Tuesday with little sign of a settlement in the wind, according to spokesmen.

Prices for regular and premium grade gasoline remained steady at both independent and name brand stations.

Independents held prices at 17.9 to 22 cents per gallon for regular grade and around 25.9 for premium.

Name brand stations sold regular at 22.9 cents and premium at about 26.9.

Airliner Crash In Mountains Of Italy Fatal To 8

Spoleto, Italy (AP)—A 2-engine Yemen Airlines plane crashed in flames in the Apennine Mountains, killing the 8 persons aboard. It was en route from Rome to Belgrade.

The dead were identified as 2 Arab passengers, 2 Romanian passengers, 2 Arab crew members and 2 Yugoslav crew members.

The Ansa news agency said one of the 2 Arab passengers was Sayed Mohammed Ashami, director general of the Foreign Ministry of Yemen. It said the Romanians were noted surgeons who had been in Yemen to perform an operation on a "high personality of that country."

Yemen Airlines does not normally have a service in Europe.

Playmate, 13, Confesses To Boy's Death

Chicago (UPI) — Raleigh Robinette, 13-year-old playmate of David Benson, 12, whose body was found in a woods near Joliet, Ill., Monday night confessed the slaying of his friend, authorities said.

Sheriff Roy Doerfler of Will County said Robinette admitted the slaying during a lie detector test here. Robbery was the motive, the sheriff added.

David, a Boy Scout, disappeared shortly after he was to have been with the Robinette boy after school last Friday. Fellow Boy Scouts found his body on the side of a ravine near his home about dawn Saturday.

Lie Tests

Doerfler, Robinette and the boy's father, Russell, came to Chicago about mid-day for the tests at the independent lie detector firm of John Reed Associates.

The sheriff said the youth signed a confession detailing the slaying in the woods.

Robinette said, Doerfler revealed, that he met Benson in the woods and the two boys began to chat. During their conversation, the confession said, young Benson stooped over to tie his shoe and placed his bag containing school books beside him.

When Benson stooped over, Doerfler said Robinette confessed, he took out a .38-caliber revolver, levelled off and shot Benson in the stomach.

Out Of Season

Tokyo (AP) — Rhinoceros and bear hunting is out of season in Cambodia, the New China News Agency reports. The agency said a government decree prohibits hunting, killing or catching of such animals until the new regulations are drawn up.

Twice-Rescued Miner Never Will Go Back Into Pits

Springhill, N. S. (UPI) —A miner rescued from his second imprisonment in a disaster-wrecked mine shaft vowed he never would go into the pits again.

Frank Hunter, 49, was one of seven men brought out of the wrecked No. 2 pit of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Co., after being trapped for 8 days and 11 hours.

He was imprisoned 4 days in a mine disaster in an adjoining pit in 1956.

"I made it out twice, thanks to the good Lord," Hunter said, "but you would never get me back there again."

Nikita Predicts U.S. Will Resume A-Tests In Year

London (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev predicted that in a year the United States and Britain will resume nuclear weapon tests.

That, he said, is why the western nations are negotiating at Geneva for a year's suspension of nuclear explosions.

Khurshchev told a meeting of Leningrad workers the United States and Britain needed the year "to integrate the results of the tests they have just conducted.

"And in a year they will again start a series of nuclear weapon tests," he asserted.

"We are ready to sign a treaty even today and to stop forever atomic and hydrogen weapon tests," Moscow Radio quoted the Soviet leader as saying.

But Russia is willing to do this "only honestly," Khrushchev went on, "so that our western partners can also conscientiously approach the solution of this question."

NU Journalists To Cover Election

University of Nebraska advanced journalism students will gird themselves for a round-the-clock coverage of 1958 election news.

The 33-student news staff will prepare a 16-page edition of which two pages, a front page and a local front page, will be set in type.

Copies of the experimental newspaper will be sent to Nebraska editors for criticism.

Not Harebrained

Washington (UPI) — Sen. George A. Smathers took note of President Eisenhower's attacks on alleged "radical" harebrained" Democratic leadership in Congress.

"No one could ever say (speaker) Sam Rayburn was harebrained," Smathers told a National Democratic Woman's Club lunch. "Hairless maybe, but not harebrained."

Giant Weather Balloon Lands Near Underwood

Underwood, Ia. (AP) — A giant weather balloon from the Sioux City Air Force base, carrying a load of 1,060 pounds, landed near here after hovering over Omaha for a time.

The balloon, about 128 feet in diameter, came down about 2½ miles east of Underwood.

A recovery crew, manning 3 helicopters, followed the balloon and when it made its final descent, they were on hand to pack equipment aboard and take it back to Sioux City.

The balloon carried weather instruments, parachutes and other equipment.

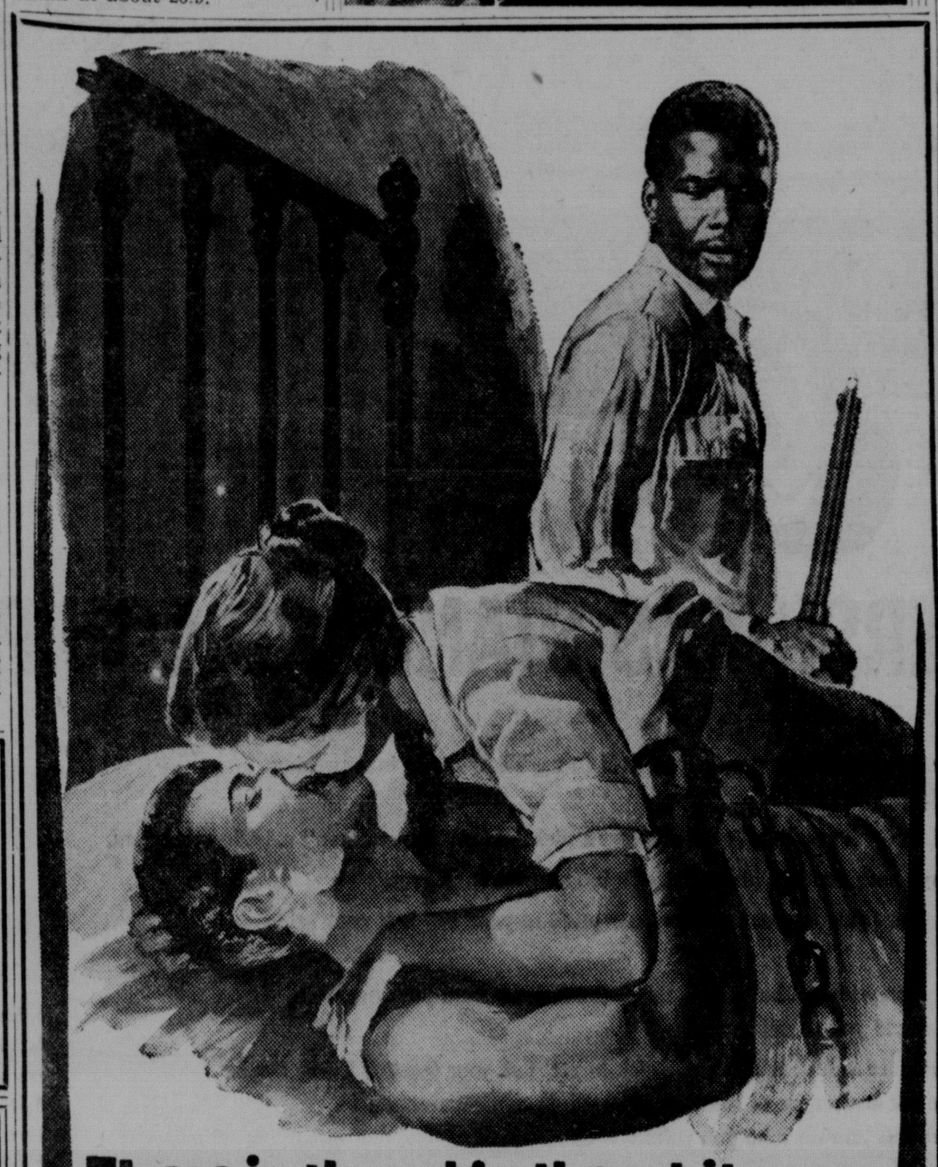

A spokesman said a similar balloon landed Saturday in the Norfolk, Neb., area.

U.S. Ready To Share Radar Secrets With Russ

Washington (AP) — The United States is prepared to share some of its radar secrets with Russia if progress is made on an agreement to prevent surprise attack.

This is reported to be the thinking of U.S. officials who are preparing for an East-West technical meeting on the attack problem. The meeting begins Nov. 10 in Geneva, Switzerland.

There is no hard and fast plan to disclose any radar facts now classified as secret, it is understood, but if things are moving along toward a useful understanding, a decision might then be made to declassify such data.

Also, these officials are represented as feeling they might find at Geneva that both sides already know more about the other's detection capabilities than either had imagined. This happened last summer at the East-West technical talks on how to suspend nuclear tests.

Nuclear View

In many ways the surprise attack talks will be similar to those on nuclear test bans. But they differ primarily in one respect: Nobody getting ready for the surprise attack conference seems to have any clear view of the road ahead.

However, the United States is sending a blue ribbon delegation of military and civilian experts.

The Americans will join colleagues from Britain, France, Canada and Italy across the table from experts from Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and possibly Albania.

Geographical questions will be avoided like the plague, it was said here. This is because geographical questions naturally get into international political questions which lie at the heart of the cold war.

Technical

To avoid breaking up in a wrangle, the experts are pledged to stick to technical matters on a high hypothetical plane.

Geographical — and therefore political — questions are left to the diplomats who would meet later if the experts make enough progress at the technical level.

For that reason, previous proposals like an Arctic zone of inspection or Poland's plan for an atom-free zone in Europe are considered to fall outside the scope of the Geneva meeting.

Heading the U.S. delegation is William C. Foster, former deputy secretary of defense and now vice president of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.

TAC Chief

Other members chosen so far include Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command; Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, vice commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command; Vice Adm. Stuart H. Ingersoll, president of the Naval War College; Lt. Gen. Edward T. Williams, deputy commanding general of the U.S. Continental Army Command; Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, Harvard chemistry professor and member of the President's Science Advisory Committee.

The conference is expected to last 4 to 5 weeks. A United Nations representative probably will be present, and results will be reported to the U.N.

Reunion Of Scottish Rite Starts Tuesday

The 111th reunion of the Lincoln Scottish Rite Bodies opens Tuesday at the Scottish Rite Temple when degrees from the 4th through the 14th will be conferred. The reunion is under the direction of Joseph W. Seacrest, 33°, Sovereign Grand Inspector General in Nebraska.

Tuesday's work will be under the supervision of Harry A. Spencer, 32°, KCCH, Master of Lincoln Lodge of Perfection. Morris D. Siegel, 32°, KCCH, is director of personnel conferring the degrees.

The four-day reunion concludes with the traditional banquet Friday night. Speaker will be Robert M. Riley, 32°, KCCH of Kansas City, Kan.

Receiving the degrees Tuesday will be:

From Lincoln:

Joseph E. Bovey, Robert L. Brumley, Charles E. Conners, Clifton D. Emert, Howard H. Fletcher, Allen E. Johnson, John F. Kircher, Ray L. McElravy, Charles E. Morris, Frank E. Pfoutz, Charles J. Probasco, Donald E. Smith, Kenneth B. Smith.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTRIDGE

Halloween party news dominates the suburbian scene once again this morning as we go up and down the lanes of Eastridge, but we have a new baby to introduce and a party or two on the agenda.

It is our pleasure to welcome both a new family to Eastridge and a new baby this Tuesday morning.

Recently moving to 930 Dale Dr. from Randolph, Air Force Base, Tex., were Capt. and Mrs. John Allred Jr. Capt. and Mrs. Allred and their family previously were stationed in Florida and Japan.

And now we find that the newest member of the bassinet brigade is Carolyn Marie Allred, who arrived on Oct. 25 at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Carolyn has a six-year-old brother, John Arthur; a sister, Dianee Louise, who is 5, and another brother, Robert David, who is four. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John P. Allred Sr. of Melvindale, Mich., and her maternal grandmother is the fomer Lincoln and Omaha resident, Mrs. Johannes H. Hansen, now of Tucson, Ariz.

A host and hostess at a steak fry at their home last Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Evans. Those included on the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buaer, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Marv Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kruse, Maj. and Mrs. Hal Holze, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Gilbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Peterson of Omaha.

Turning now to news of Halloween parties during the week end we find that Jack Parker, Marv Rozmarin and Gary Greeness were hosts on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Parker. Those present at the affair were George Rozmarin, David McCalla, Mike Brown, David Baker, David Evans, Charles Boughn, Steve Powell, Sue Fischer, Karen Hollen, Sandy Brown, Kathy Evans, Geane Anderson, Barbara Sperry, Pam Morrison, and Margie Larson.

Understand that Christie Berg, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Ward Berg, was also a hostess at a party on Thursday night. After the 5 o'clock dinner the guests bobbed for apples and went through a "spook room" at the old-fashioned Halloween party. Joining the festivities were Danelle Brown, Rickie Rolfsmeyer, Dale McQuillen, Sally and Nancy Cole, Claudia Johnson, Ronnie Gormley, Marcia Bauer, and Jane Lehman.

A host and hostess at their home on Saturday night will be Col. and Mrs. C. C. Gordon, when they entertain at an hors-doeuvres party before the Marine Corps Birthday Ball. Co-hosts and hostesses will be Maj. and Mrs. Robert Denney, and Capt. and Mrs. Tom Kelley.

Suburban Halloween Hoop-La

A Hard Times Halloween party host and hostess in Patrician Heights on Saturday, Nov. 1, were Mr. and Mrs. William Reilley. The better-late-than-never revelers were invited to the "coal bin," a term used fondly by the Reilleys to describe their basement, which has recently been painted in black.

On hand for the party and midnight supper were: (seated on the floor, from left to right) Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schmidt of Omaha, Albert Priess, Don Detmer, and (seated, second row) Mrs. Detmer, Mrs. Reilley, Mr. Reilley, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Priess, and (standing) Lester Dovel, Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Dovel.

We Hear That

Guests expected to arrive at the home of Col. and Mrs. Frank B. O'Connell on Tuesday are the O'Connell's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. O'Connell of Kingsport, Tenn., and their daughter, Mrs. Donald Reed (Onabeth O'Connell) and her daughter, Kathy, of Denver.

—and there are travelers to mention this morning — Hear that Mr. and Mrs. Alfred DuTeau and Mrs. DuTeau's sister, Mrs. D. B. Porter of Omaha, left on Sunday evening for New York City. Mr. DuTeau plans only a brief stay there, but Mrs. DuTeau and Mrs. Porter will remain for at least two weeks.

* * *

—tonight is party night for the members of the Fifty Fifty Club, and what better theme could have been chosen for the dinner dance, to be held at Hotel Lincoln, than "Election Day." We hear that no campaign slogans will be in sight, but each member will wear a campaign button inscribed with his (and her) own name, and the tables will be appointed with speaker's platforms, draped with bunting.

The committee in charge of the party arrangements includes Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gerstenberger, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. —and while we are speaking of fun parties we certainly must include the Merrimyx Club's "Barn Dance" to be held next Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker. Understand that the committee really has some fancy plans which includes, of course, the decorations — The party announcements were bits of burlap threaded with hay — and ornamented with a verse which began "Owls are whooin'; Something's doin'; At the Cornhusker barn —" and so forth.

The committee, wearing jeans and calico, includes Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. David Murray, Mr. and Mrs. George Fuchshuber, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Popp and Mr. and Mrs. Els Jorgensen.

Dear Abby . . .

Barefoot And Happy!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every morning when I drive my son to school I pass a certain house and I see a man come out to get the morning paper in his pajamas. This is not all. He is barefoot but he wears a hat. He recognizes me by my car and he always waves and tips his hat. I am so embarrassed for my little boy that I nearly lose control of the car. Do you think a man who wears a hat when he goes out to get the morning paper in his pajamas and bare feet is quite right in the head? Should I report him, ignore him, or what?

SHOCKED DRIVER

DEAR SHOCKED: His attire is a little startling, I admit, but it doesn't indicate there is anything the matter with his head (he's protecting it, anyway). If this shocks you, take another route.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My employer's daughter is being married in an evening ceremony in November. It will be a very fashionable affair. My husband and I were invited to the wedding and reception but my husband does not want to attend because he has only one suit — a charcoal grey tweed with a fleck of red in it. He feels he would be conspicious in this suit. We cannot afford to buy him a new suit for this occasion. Should I attend the wedding alone? If I didn't attend, my employer would wonder why. Any advice will be appreciated.

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: Your husband could borrow (or rent) a dark suit or tuxedo for this occasion if he feels his only suit would be inappropriate. You should both attend.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem is about clothes. My clothes are so old and everybody's seen them because I wore them last year in the seventh grade. My mother sews quite well, but lately I have a more developing figure. She makes them so square and loose I won't wear them. She says if I won't wear what she has made me she won't make me any more and she won't buy me any new dresses, either. I asked for an allowance to buy my own clothes, but she won't give it to me. What should I do?

WITHOUT CLOTHES

DEAR WITHOUT: You're really not "without clothes" —you simply refuse to wear the clothes your mother has made for you. If I were you I would trust my mother's judgment.

CANDLE TIPS

Keep holiday candles firm and pretty: Place 'em in your gas refrigerator about an hour before using! Give Christmas candles a pretty "snowy" effect: Dip your hands in thick mixture of soapsuds, or rub 'em on a wet bar of soap. Roll body of the candle between soapy palms till it's well coated. Flame will burn brighter; candle won't smoke.

PRIVATE SUN

"I dry my clothes in the 'sun' at night!" That's what you can say, and you won't be foolin'! Automatic gas dryers are now equipped with a violet ray device that puts "sunshine" into your clothes as they dry, giving a better-than-outdoors freshness and smell. You don't have to wait for the weatherman's permission to wash clothes, when you own a smartly-styled gas dryer complete with "sunshine"! Ask the friendly folks at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer!

SWEET STEAMING

Your linens, lingerie, dresses, etc., will take on a pleasant smell if you add a few drops of your favorite perfume to water before filling your steam iron.

Natural gas is so dependable and plentiful, we sometimes take it for granted and we can! The huge pools will keep supplying us with this miracle fuel day and night — always ready to go to work at the flick of a dial! It's piped from Northern Natural Gas Company to your local gas company, then into our homes... an everlasting gift to enrich our lives!

Foreign Policy Is Defended

Vice President Hopes For Big Vote Tuesday

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—Vice President Nixon topped off his 11th-hour cross-continent campaign effort Monday with renewed defense of the administration's foreign policy and a plea for a big vote Tuesday.

His visit to North America's farthest north city, in snow and temperatures down to 16 above zero, also has capped heavy GOP campaigning in Alaska. The nation's soon-to-be 49th state votes the first time for 2 U.S. senators and a congressman on Nov. 25. It does not vote Tuesday.

Nixon took time out from campaign appearances Monday at the University of Alaska and a downtown political rally to address a message to all the states.

"Let us make sure the decision in each contest tomorrow will represent the verdict of a majority of our people, rather than that of the minority of the people who took the trouble to vote," he said.

Bank Bandit Nets $5,000

New York (UPI)—A businesslike holdup artist threatened to blow up a teller with 3 hand grenades Monday while carrying out a daring $5,000 bank robbery near the corner of 5th Ave. and 42nd St. He then dashed to the street and vanished in a crowd of pedestrians.

Threatening to turn the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank at 1 East 42nd St. into a "battlefield," the bandit completed his bold holdup in less than 60 seconds with such finesse that a guard standing 10 feet away noticed nothing suspicious.

Allan Jones Denies His Wife Tried Suicide

Los Angeles (AP) — Mrs. Allan Jones, wife of the singer and heiress to a shoe fortune, was unconscious and in a critical condition at a hospital Monday.

Her husband denied a police report that she had attempted suicide. He said she suffered a head injury when she was dropped while being carried from their home to ambulance to be taken to the hospital.

"There was no suicide intent," Jones told a reporter. "It was just an unconscious accident."

He said attendants carrying his 38-year-old wife out of the house "dropped her on her head on the sidewalk from a height of 4 or 5 feet.

"Her head split open and there was blood all over everything," he added.

Dr. Caryle P. Imerman, her physician, said it cannot yet be determined whether her critical condition can be attributed to barbituates or the fall from the stretcher.

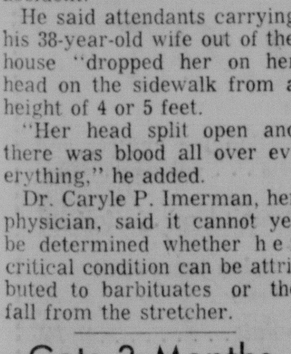

Gets 3 Months

Hatfield, England (UPI)—a court sentenced aircraft worker Alan Humphrey to 3 months in jail for sabotaging commercial jet airliners on the assembly line.

Humphrey, 23, said he sawed through metal wing struts and brackets on 3 Comet IV jets made by the de Havilland company here because he wanted to transfer to another job.

His job involved drilling 52 holes in a small piece of aluminum and it gave him headaches, he said.

Moon Rocket No. 3 Will Be Fired In A Few Days

. . . CHANCES 'LESS THAN 1 IN 25'

Washington (AP)—The Air Force is about ready to fire another rocket at the moon. Its chances of reaching the moon's vicinity were described as "something less than 1 in 25." It will be the third shot.

Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced the shoot will be made within a week or so.

The lunar probe will be a success if the instrumented nose of the rocket completes its 240,000-mile journey into space and goes into orbit for 2 or 3 turns around the moon. But the space scientists would be gratified if the rocket approached within 25,000 to 40,000 miles of the moon.

In putting the chances of reaching the vicinity of the target at 25-1, Dryden cautioned against any great optimism about the shoot, the third in an air force series.

"If we are very fortunate, we may achieve trajectory and velocity control sufficient to position the probe in the vicinity of the moon," he said at a news conference.

The moon ship will be an 88-foot combination of Thor ballistic missiles, the Navy's Vanguard satellite launcher, and upper stage rockets propelled by a powerful solid fuel.

NASA, the civilian agency which has assumed responsibility for all U.S. investigations of space, declined to make public the exact date of the shoot.

Astronomical calculations, however, indicate the best time would be a period of three or four days beginning this Friday. At that time the moon would be something less than 240,000 miles from the earth.

N.Y. Post Switches

Repudiates Backing Of Gov. Harriman

New York (AP)—The New York Post in a last minute switch Monday repudiated its endorsement of Gov. Averell Harriman for re-election.

Dorothy Schiff, the publisher, in a Page 1 statement in the paper's final edition, declared:

"Gov. Harriman's recent snide insinuation that Nelson Rockefeller is pro-Arab and anti-Israel should not be condoned by any fair-minded person. Rockefeller, far from being anti-Israel, has been a liberal contributor to the United Jewish Appeal for 12 years.

"It is deplorable but true that in political campaigns lower echelons on both sides indulge in vile demagoguery. But when the head of the ticket repeats such libels he should be punished by the voters. If you agree with me, do not vote for Averell Harriman tomorrow."

An Abrupt Change

The newspaper last week had formally endorsed Harriman, running on the Democratic-Liberal tickets, over Rockefeller, the Republican candidate. In early editions Monday the paper still listed Harriman at the top of a list of "The Post's election choices."

But in the Post's final edition, Harriman's name and picture were deleted from the list of its choices and the spot was left blank.

Questioned as he returned from a tour of Manhattan and Queens neighborhoods, Harriman denied that he had accused Rockefeller of being pro-Arab and anti-Israel.

"I have never made any such statements," Harriman said. "I've been critical of the Dulles-Eisenhower policy in regard to the Middle East, but I have never said anything other than that."

-QUEMOY-

BIG GUNS ARE SILENT

After Heavy Shelling

Taipei (Tuesday) (AP) — Red Chinese guns fell silent Tuesday after pounding Quemoy and the Tan Islands Monday with one of the heaviest bombardments of the Formosa Strait war.

Nationalist defense spokesmen said quiet returned to the offshore islands at midnight.

Red artillery on 3 sides thundered into action Monday, ending weeks of unofficial cease-fire, sporadic firing and lulls. Nationalist Defense Ministry spokesmen said their count showed 39,162 shells were fired on the islands in 18 hours Monday. The Nationalists said a furious 6-hour period brought 36,432 rounds crashing down.

The bombardment, most intense in 7 weeks, was in response to Nationalist China's first defiance of a Peiping warning against resupplying the islands on odd-numbered days.

One-fourth, or about 9,500, of the Communist shells hit the Tan Islets, rocky Nationalist outposts between Quemoy, Little Quemoy and Communist territory. American military officials say Quemoy is now virtually impregnable to successful sea invasion, but that the Reds — if they were willing to pay a heavy price—might be able to seize one or both of the smaller islands, Tatan and Ehrtan.

Presley is a jeep driver and during the maneuvers he will undergo tests on locating and observing "enemy" positions.

He gave a party the previous night in the Bad Nauheim hotel where he rented the entire third floor.

"There is no substitute for experieice."

Today's economic uncertainties reflect the "age of danger" in which we live. It is an age characterized by the Russian threat, by international strains and stresses, by intense anti-western nationalism in former colonial areas and by trouble spots on every continent. Cracks have appeared behind the Iron Curtain in Poland and Hungary. There is trouble in the Near-East. At home business is improving but further inflation still threatens. These factors add to the difficulties of investment management.

Facing these disturbing factors, thoughtful men realize that the best protection for their families lies in providing continuous, experienced management for their estates. Because the job has become more exacting, the need for skilled, systematic investment management is greater.

We have long specialized in the management of estates and trust funds as our primary function. We understand the importance of prudent and conservative investment standards. We recognize the hazards of inflation. Far from claiming to know all the answers, we are keenly aware of the difficulties of investment management.

Publicly available services no longer being adequate, we employ three of the leading firms of investment counsel. Our field interviewing sources, through close contacts wth top management of America's major industrial corporations, keep us abreast of business developments and bring a constant flow of useful information.

Naturally these unusual advantages reflect themselves in the service which our own experienced trust investment organization furnishes our customers. We provide investment management for:

Trusts set up under wills and trust agreements of individuals.

Pension trusts established by corporations, other business organizations and educational institutions.

Profit-sharing retirement trusts set up by corporations and other business organizations.

Charitable trusts established by corporations and by individuals.

Agency accounts, established by individuals, corporations, universities, colleges, etc.

Investment supervisory accounts.

To provide continuous, conservative, and experienced investment management for your estate, leave it in trust and name this company as your executor and trustee.

State's Tax Structure Needs Change—Brooks

Omaha — Nebraska's tax structure is in need of change at two levels, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Ralph Brooks said Monday night.

"It needs a change in the assessment procedure in order to equalize the tax burden and in order to ensure that those who should pay the tax do pay their just share of the tax," Brooks said.

"It also needs a change at the collection level, particularly in the field of intangibles, in order that homeowners and personal property owners may no longer be subjected to confiscatory tax obligations."

Brooks also hit away again at rising traffic deaths.

The rise by 33 in Nebraska's traffic fatality rate over a year ago is "shocking and shameful," he said.

During this same period, "Iowa reduced its traffic fatality rate by over 100 lives while Nebraska has increased its fatality rate by tragic proportions," Brooks said.

Lashing at what he called the "complete indifference" of state officials to the traffic problems, Brooks said if elected he would consider "direct, forward steps toward the reduction of the traffic fatality rate with a program patterned after that successfully practiced in Iowa."

Brooks opposes Gov. Victor Anderson in Tuesday's balloting.

Federal Tax Case Against Local Man Underway

A Federal Court jury Monday began hearing the government's income tax case against Gordon M. Eno, owner of the Eno Insurance Agency at Lincoln.

Eno, 51, has pleaded innocent to 3 counts of filing false income tax returns for the years 1951, 1952, and 1953.

The government alleges Eno fraudulently failed to report additional net income of $14,997.32 for those years and owes $4,849.61 in taxes.

2 Justices Being Guarded By FBI

Washington (AP)— FBI guards have been assigned to Chief Justice Warren and Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme Court for the last several weeks as a result of threatening letters received by the jurists.

The FBI agents are assigned to guard Warren and Frankfurter at their homes and as they move about the Capital. The FBI agents do not work in the Supreme Court building, where a regular police force is on duty around the clock.

Neither the justices nor court attaches would comment on the special guards. The FBI also declined comment.

School Administrators To Confer

A joint conference sponsored by the Department of School Administrators, Teachers College, University of Nebraska, and the Nebraska Assn. of School Administrators, will be held here Nov. 13-14, State Education Commissioner F. B. Decker has announced.

Decker said the general theme of the conference will be "competencies necessary for administration."

Gov. Anderson Blasts Terry, Says 'He Can't Destroy Me'

Gov. Victor Anderson Monday night let loose a blistering attack against hie chief antagonist during the 1958 campaign, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, and also mentioned, frequently, his Democratic gubernatorial opponent, Ralph G. Brooks.

Carpenter, chairman of the Legislative Tax Investigation Committee, has sharply criticized Anderson over the past several months charging the governor with failure to enforce Nebraska's tax laws.

Anderson charged that Carpenter has been waging his months-long campaign against him (Anderson) "because he can't destroy me and when he can't control a man, he tries to destroy him."

The governor asked if another reason why Carpenter is trying to defeat him was, "Could it be he wants a weaker governor so he (Carpenter) will have an easier time in 1960 seeking the office?"

Criticises Arena

Noting that Carpenter also has been a frequent critic of Ak-Sar-Ben and has questioned its tax-exempt status, the governor said that Carpenter "pays no taxes" on an arena which the senator owns in Terrytown, adding, "and Carpenter takes all the profits" from the arena.

Carpenter has "accused me of doing nothing to enforce the tax laws," Gov. Anderson said, "and Carpenter and Brooks have made statements that I say nothing needs to be done about Nebraska tax laws."

The governor said that he (Anderson) has been "quoted in the press, on the radio and television . . . many times making recommendations for enforcement and improvement of our tax laws."

Anderson said enforcement of tax laws "could have been effective if it were not for Mr. Carpenter," and charged that the senator's amendment to a tax enforcement law passed in the 1957 Legislature "made it (the law) ineffective."

Morrison Says Hruska Silent On Spending Charge

"My recent estimate of the Hruska (Sen. Roman Hruska) campaign costing in excess of $100,000 went unanswered again," Democratic senatorial candidate Frank Morrison declared Monday.

"Although he had a perfect opportunity to do so, when asked about who was financing his campaign, Hruska hedged and hemmed and hawed about the matter and gave no answer on an Omaha telecast," Morrisan said.

"The reported $2,551 in receipts and $1,771 in expenditures is one of the most ridiculous untruths to come out of this entire campaign, and constitutes a violation of his oath under the Corrupt Practices Act."

Morrison opposes Hruska for a Senate seat in Tuesday's election.

Brock, Reed File Donation Reports

Additional campaign contribution reports from two Democratic candidates for Congress were filed with the Secretary of State's office Monday.

Henry E. Ley, treasurer of the Brock for Congress committee, working for the election of Lawrence Brock of Wakefield, Democratic candidate for the Third District post, reported a $110 contribution from Frank Reed of Lincoln, and a total of $205.01 in other miscellaneous receipts.

Louise Hesemann, treasurer of the District McGinley for Congress Committee, reported $250 from the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Washington, D.C., for the election of Don McGinley of Ogallala, Democratic candidate for the Fourth District congressional post.

Conservatism Needed, Says Rep. Harrison

Lincoln Star Special

Norfolk, Neb. — "True conservatism is needed in our government now as seldom before in our country's history," Congressman R. D. "Bob" Harrison said in an election eve statement Monday.

Harrison is pitted against Democrat Larry Brock of Wakefield Tuesday in his bid for a fifth consecutive term in the House of Representatives.

"In these days of relative prosperity in so many parts of the country, you hear a lot of conservative statements from candidates who talked pretty radical a couple of years ago," the Republican said.

"You never know just where these candidates will be when the chips are down. I believe the people should and will put their trust in public servants with a proven record of conservatism."

Harrison cited as "the basic issues in this election" government spending, control of union bosses, socialism and the farm problem.

"I will continue to work for a free and prosperous agriculture, with less government controls on the farmer and less cost to the general taxpayer," Harrison noted.

Soviet A-Ban Nixed

West Stands Pat On Yearly Bar Proposal

Geneva (UPI)—The United States and Britain Monday rejected Russia's call for an immediate and permanent ban on nuclear tests. The 3 powers then went into another quarrel over procedural matters at the 2nd session of their nuclear talks here.

In effect, both sides wrangled over what they should argue about 1st around the conference table in the Palais Des Nations.

Russia introduced a formal agenda for the 4-power conference calling for a suspension of tests effective immediately, to be followed by talks on how to police and control the suspension.

The United States, with British support, offered a program for the talks providing that the delegates should 1st take up controls before going on to the question of a test ban.

Standing Firm

The West was standing firm on its demands for a year-to-year test ban geared to a foolproof inspection system and progress in the overall field of disarmament, an issue deadlocked since 1945.

U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth and British Delegate David Ormsby-Gore conferred privately on the Western attitude toward the Russian test ban proposal before they met with Soviet Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin at 3 p.m.

The Western delegates had cabled to their home governments the details of the Russian proposal for an immediate test ban which was put before the conference at the opening session last Friday.

There was no Western counter-proposal Monday. Instead, the Western powers rejected the Russian suggestion at the two-hour meeting Monday and then took up the agenda question.

Sources said the West turned down the Russian ban proposal on grounds it contained too many pitfalls and lacked the safeguards the West has always demanded.

Sewage Expert To Speak Here

Dr. Ralph E. Fuhrman of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Federation of Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn., will be the main speaker at the Friday banquet of the annual convention of the Nebraska Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn.

The State Health Department, in announcing the speaker, said Dr. Fuhrman will speak on the role of operators in modern sewage plants.

The state association meets Thursday and Friday at the Lincoln Hotel.

He also will make two national awards to Nebraskans who have distinguished themselves in the field of waste disposal.

The presentations include the Hatfield and the Arthut Sidney Bedell Awards. The Bedell award has been presented once before to a Nebraskan. State Entomologist William Rapp, Crete, received it in 1955.

IndecentExposure Charge Dropped

A defense motion to dismiss an indecent exposure charge against Walter P. May of 4001 Holly Rd. was sustained Monday by Municipal Judge Richard O. Johnson.

May's attorney made the motion following presentation of evidence by City Prosecutor Thomas Gorham.

May, 35, was charged in connection with an incident Oct. 4 at the Cornhusker Feed Co. at 215 So. 7th, of which he is operator.

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

By Al Beebe

Six-man football is virtually settled, Class C is in nearly the same situation, but the eight-man ranks are still fighting tooth and nail for final rating positions.

Plymouth completed its second straight unbeaten season with a 44-7 conquest of Milligan and has clinched another 6-man football title. Only a few games remain, and although the lower positions may be shuffled slightly, the teams are expected to hold top 10 positions.

In Class C, David City St. Mary's must beat only rival Seward Concordia Nov. 11 to remain on top. St. Mary's will be heavily favored, and it would take an upset of the David City crew to knock them from their perch.

None of the other rated teams have games of enough importance to overtake St. Mary's. Oshkosh has a chance for the most improvement in its game with Grant this week.

But there is nothing certain in the 8-man ranks, where Red Willow is bumped from the top this week for the first time during the season. Lawrence moves to No. 1.

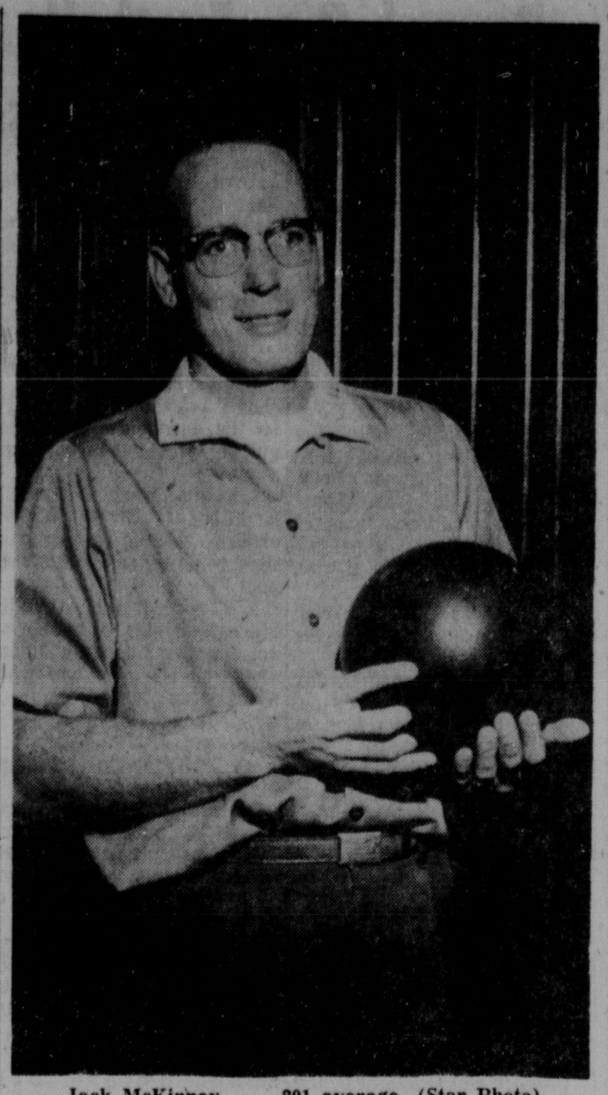

Red Willow had a tough time beating Farnam, 27-6, while the other clubs impressed in games last week. Red Willow plays rugged Hayes Center this week, and a good win could shove the Willow back to the fore.

Lawrence, meanwhile, faces stiff competition and could even lose its two remaining games. Lawrence meets Milford (No. 6) in the Pioneer Conference playoff at Fairmont Thursday night, and then entertains unbeaten and 5th-ranked O'Neill St. Mary's on Nov. 11.

Ceresco, No. 3 this week, has games left at Fremont St. Pat's and at unbeaten, but unimpressive, Prague. Rising City, No. 4, has completed its season and can only go down if other teams impress.

St. Mary's also has a contest this week against Lynch, unbeaten in Nebraska.

Milford and Beaver Crossing (No. 7) will play at Milford on Nov. 11. The lower 3 teams, Axtell, Arthur and Mullen, have completed their seasons or play weak foes and are not likely to change positions. In fact, these 3 could be bumped by other contenders, such as Prague, Hayes Center, Dakota City and Beatrice St. Joseph.

201 GIVES McKINNEY PIN LEAD

Jack McKinney has jumped off to a big lead over rival Bill Koehler in the first compilation of top 10 bowling averages in the city.

Last year Koehler edged McKinney, 189-188, in the final standings, but McKinney has taken a 9-pin edge this year.

McKinney has rolled his way to a 201 average in the Rosewilde Capital City League. He has increased that figure every week since the start of the winter season.

Koehler also is ahead of his last year's final figures with his 192 mark in the Bowl-Mor Postal Employees League.

Among the women, it's a familiar story. Marie Johnson, last year's final leader with 181, has jumped into an 11-pin edge with her 189 mark in the Bowl-Mor Ladies Classic Scratch League. Last year's runner-up Lois Mousel, is in 4th place this year with 174 in the Hollywood Ladies Big 12.

Bernie Kossek is the only other bowler to carry over from last year's list. He is 8th this week after finishing in a tie for 4th last year.

Jo Landess and Ruby Stewart, 2-3 behind Johnson this year, were also on last year's final women's list.

Purdue Won't Send Adelaide

. . . 'Golden Girl' To Stay Home

Lafayette, Ind. (UPI) — The men of Columbus, Ohio, can put away their binoculars and relax.

Adelaide Jeanne Darling, the "Golden Girl" of Purdue University, will not wiggle for them.

Al Wright, director of the Purdue band, announced Monday he will not take Adelaide with him when the University's 41-member pep band journeys to Columbus this weekend for the Purdue-Ohio State football game.

Wright insisted that Adelaide is not being censored because of campus controversy about her halftime hula dance.

"We only take the full band of 275 players on two away-from-home games a season," Wright said. "We take the pep band on two other trips — but we never take women along on the pep band trips."

Adelaide, who won the title of "Golden Girl" along with her job as Purdue's chief majorette, has been the hottest topic of conversation on the Boilermaker campus ever since she took her wiggle to Notre Dame a week and a half ago.

Two coeds wrote the student newspaper that Adelaide might be pleasing to some types of people, but she "wiggled excessively" as far as they were concerned.

Protests arose from another quarter after last Saturday's game with Illinois at Lafayette. Male members of the student body claimed Adelaide didn't wiggle enough.

Adelaide maintained there was no change on the quality of her hula. When asked if she had restrained her wiggle, she replied "not that I know of."

SEC Chief Asks Goal Post Move

Daytona, Beach, Fla. (AP)—Bennie Moore, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference since the post was created in 1948, Monday night advocated a college rules change which would move the goalposts to the goalline.

Moore was here to address the Daytona Beach Quarterback Club. He said:

"I expect that moving the goalposts from 10 yards behind the goalline to the goalline would help the college game. It might help the offense. It would increase the number of field goals. I think today the defense is ahead of the offense and we need to strengthen the offense."

In professional football, the goalposts are the goalline.

Thornton Acquires His Big 10 Ravings Early

Evanston, Ill. (AP) — Seldom in Big Ten football has a sophomore quarterback been acclaimed so highly as Northwestern's Dick Thornton.

Much of the Wildcats' startling success in compiling a 5-1 record this season, after failing to win a game last year, can be found in the leadership qualities of the modest, unassuming Thornton.

The 6-foot, 180-pounder is a born player, raised with a football in his hand since he was 3 by an athletic-minded father who once was a quarterback for Missouri Mines and the Philadelphia Eagles.

By the time young Thornton entered Chicago's Taft High School, he was very nearly a polished player. And by the time he was ready to graduate, he had made all-state honors and had 43 colleges hounding him.

Northwestern got him by what could be described as a closed circuit recruiting campaign. Living only a dozen or so miles from the campus, Thornton and his family could visit it as often as they pleased without the coaching staff being accused of luring the boy there.

"Alex Agase (assistant coach and chief talent hunter) should receive all the credit for getting Thornton for us," said Northwestern head coach Ara Parseghian. "Agase was born and raised in the Chicago area, made a fine reputation as a player, and Thornton had a lot of respect for him.

"The family was genuinely interested in athletics. We had them up to Northwestern many times for basketball games and so forth. We were interested in them and they became interested in us."

"There were many schools after Thornton — at least 8 in the Big Ten, especially Indiana and Michigan. Another thing, Northwestern has a fine dental school. Thornton wanted dentistry. It all worked out."

"My biggest thrill came Saturday when we beat Ohio State 21-0," says Thornton.

Thornton celebrated the victory over OSU along with his birthday.

"I was 19, not 20," he said. "The reason everybody thought I was 20 is because I fibbed about my age. When I first came to Northwestern in April of 1957, I was only 17 and I thought the rest of the guys would think they were playing with a kid, I told them I was 18. That extra year stuck.

Packers With 'Defeatist Attitudes' May Get Boot

JENNINGS SAYS CORNHUSKERS 'NOT OVERWORKED LAST WEEK'

"You have to watch out for two things when you set up plans for a Saturday football game."

The speaker was Nebraska Coach Bill Jennings. He was referring to a Husker player's comment that the Cornhuskers' game against Missouri last Saturday "had been left on the practice field."

Jennings went on: "You can overwork your boys during the week trying to perfect everything, or you can take it easy and wind up unprepared.

"I don't think we worked the boys any harder than usual last week. We just got beat by a better team."

Monday the Huskers took it easy in sweat clothes. Whether any rugged scrimmages are staged this week "depends on the condition of the players," Jennings said.

"Max Martz should be ready to play again Saturday," Jennings noted. "He won't work out early this week, however." Martz was badly bruised during the Missouri game.

LeRoy Zentic, junior guard who suffered a slight concussion Saturday, also is okay, Jennings said.

Status of sophomore halfback Pat Fischer, who didn't play Saturday and has seen little action this fall, remains questionable.

Jennings said he planned no personnel changes for the Kansas game, "although I might after I see the movies again."

Jennings had an answer for the student critics who hanged him in effigy following the 31-0 loss to Missouri.

"If they really want to help, I wish they would come to me. I'd give 'em a uniform. We have only 35 boys on the squad, and I can promise them action if they go out for the team."

Larry Naviaux still holds the rushing leadership for Nebraska ball carriers, but sophomore Clay White has the best average per carry.

Naviaux, senior right halfback, has gained 159 yards in 46 carries, for a 3.5 yards per carry mark. Dick McCashland has gained 156 yards in 55 carries.

White has carried the ball only 20 times, has gained 111 yards for a 5.6 average.

Junior quarterback Harry Tolly has the top passing percentage. He has completed 11 of 21 passes for a .524 average.

HANGMAN LYNCHED

Nebraska Coach Bill Jennings doesn't have sole claim to the "hangman's noose" at the University of Nebraska.

Saturday night Jennings was hanged in effigy by some disgruntled students after the Huskers' 31-0 loss to Missouri.

Monday night, swaying in the breeze beneath a tree near the stadium was another dummy.

This one, however, was labeled "Jennings' Hangman." The dummy also displayed the sign "We're with you, Bill."

Monday night's dummy reportedly was strung up by students disgruntled over the actions of the students in the Saturday night lynching.

Coach Wants To Oust 'Bad Roots'

Green Bay, Wis. (AP) — An angry, disillusioned coach Ray "Scooter" McLean indicated strongly Monday that some of his Green Bay Packer football players would get the ax — possibly before Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears.

Reacting swiftly in the wake of Sunday's humiliating 56-0 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Colts, McLean told the Associated Press:

"We've got to cut out some of the bad roots. They're getting to be a problem because they're starting to affect the rest of the team. We know who some of them are and we're going to do something about it."

McLean, who is in his first year as head coach of the Packers, said 7 or 8 players on his 35-man squad have "a defeatist attitude." He mentioned no names however.

Asked whether he planned to cut some players, McLean, whose Packers have only one victory and a tie to show for 6 NFL starts, replied:

"I wouldn't be at all surprised. I've got to do something about it. That's all there is to it. There's no use going on like this. We were just plain lousy at Baltimore."

"There's a strong possibility," he added, "that we'll do something about the bad roots before Sunday's game with the Bears at Chicago."

McLean, an easy-going coach, declared he's fed up with some of his players for taking advantage of him.

"There's no use being a good guy," he said. "Good guys always get it in the neck. From now on I'm not going to be a good guy any more."

"Of course," he continued, "I'm not going by Sunday's game alone. You can't make something like this a one-game deal. You've got to go on the overall picture and that's what I'm doing. This defeatist attitude, though, has got to stop."

McLean, who succeeded the ousted Lisle "Liz" Blackbourn at the close of last season, fired his blast after attending a weekly luncheon meeting with the Packers executive committee.

Scooter, no doubt, will be subjected to some pressure because of the Packers' disappointing showing but his popularity among committee members probably will enable him to ride out any storm. He is operating under a one-year contract.

McLean said he told the committee exactly how he felt about the team and his personnel.

Nebraska's football tradition isn't the only thing that has gone to pot on the Cornhusker campus.

Respect for the flag and national anthem of our great country is also scoffed at by the "elite" members of our state university.

While students in countries such as Hungary are shedding blood to regain their flag and their independence, Nebraska students are too sophisticated for such childish displays of emotion.

Perhaps I am asking too much from senior students at the University of Nebraska. Perhaps I am old-fashioned, out of style and have a mother complex. I don't know how University students would describe my affliction.

But I do know that I am prouder of the Nebraska football team which took a sad beating from Missouri than I will ever be of the 13-man Innocents Society of Nebraska which couldn't take time out from smoking, chatting and perfecting their gaudy attire to pay two minutes respect to our flag and the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" before Saturday's game.

Hammerin' Hank Kuhlmann, Missouri's block-busting fullback who nearly ran the Huskers out of the stadium, is a pretty thoughtful fellow.

He took time out after Saturday's battle to cross the playing field, seek out Nebraska Trainer Paul Schneider and thank the NU corpsman for some quick first aid during a baseball game last spring.

You can bet your last dollar that Mister Kuhlmann is on the top of Schneider's "nice guy" list.

Oklahoma ripped Colorado's "best team ever" 23-7 in one of the more lopsided games in the series. The score would have been worse except for some great punting by the Buffs' Boyd Dowler.

The Colorado quarterback chalked up kicks of 56, 55, 55, 40, 39 and 55 yards.

Coach Bill Jennings' offer to the student critics who "strung him up" in effigy should silence them.

The Nebraska coach promised them they would see action if they came out for football.

With Kansas, Pittsburgh and Oklahoma on the schedule I know of few that would want anything to do with a football the next three Saturdays.

Hyde Named Top AL Soph

New York (AP)—Dick Hyde's brilliant efforts as a relief pitcher for the last-place Washington Senators will not go unrewarded. The 30-year-old right-hander has been voted the American League sophomore of the year for 1958.

The balloting of members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America in the Associated Press poll revealed today that Hyde drew 46 of the 96 votes.

Norm Siebern of the New York Yankees was the runner-up. He was named on 22 ballots. Tony Kubek of the Yanks was 3rd with 11 followed by Russ Nixon of Cleveland, 10; Jim Landis of Chicago, 6 and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, 1.

Hyde won 10 games and saved 19 others as a reliever. Throwing his most effective pitches from an unusually low position, Hyde compiled an excellent 1.75 earned run average.

Sugar Founder Dies

New Orleans (AP) — Fred Digby, founding father of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl, died Monday after a long illness.

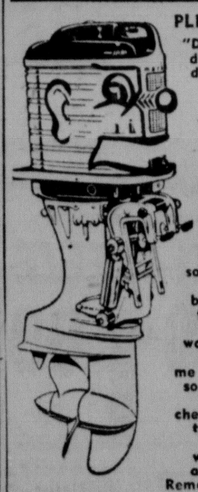

Digby started the Sugar Bowl movement as sports editor of the old New Orleans Item. He later resigned and took over as general manager of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn., which sponsors the annual sports carnival.

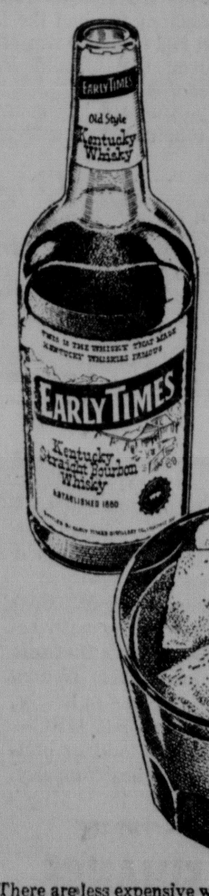

Northwestern star quarter Dick Thornton sweeps leaves from a sidewalk on the college campus Monday as he keeps in shape for the Wildcats' game Saturday against Wisconsin.

Buffs Retain Lead In Big 8 Statistics

Kansas City — Colorado, short-circuited in its annual attempt to derail Oklahoma, still managed to retain command of the Big 8 football statistics, even though the Buffs dropped off sharply from their top spot nationally.

After the Sooner fray, Colorado's total offense average in 6 games dropped from 411.2 to 373.6, its rushing sagged from 347.2 to 300.

Howard Cook, Buff halfback who was limited to 18 yards on 12 carries against Oklahoma, still is No. 1 in the conference with 518 yards on 81 carries. Cook, who scored CU's lone touchdown against the Sooners, remained on top as the leading scorer with 59 points.

Boyd Dowler, CU quarterback, who kicked 6 times for a 49.2 average against OU, assumed command in punting with a 42.9 mark on 21 boots.

The Sooners, bidding to repeat as champions and return to the Orange Bowl, have 2,190 yards in total offense for runnerup honors to Colorado while Iowa State is 3rd with 2,011.

Among individual rushers, Mel West of Missouri with 456 yards on 93 carries and Dwight Nichols of Iowa State, with 453 on 135 efforts, held onto second and 3rd.

Les Krull, Kansas State quarterback, took command of passing with 39 completions in 66 attempts for 498 yards, replacing Missouri's injured Phil Snowden as the leader. Snowden dropped to 3rd behind Dick Soergel of Oklahoma State.

Jim Wood of OSU held the lead in pass catching with 18 grabs for 255 yards while Ced Price of K-State remained second with 13 for 177 yards.

Oklahoma's Jakie Sandefer became the top punt returner, lugging back 5 for an average of 16.6.

He Knows What He's Talking About

Alex Kehler is a director of the Nebraska Better Fishing Association. And the next time he has something to say at a meeting the anglers would do well to listen. Kehler, of 1330 S. 8th Street Monday hauled in these 8 catfish, a fine catch for this time of the year. The big one on the right weighed 6 pounds. Kehler caught the fish on chicken livers on the West Blue near Beaver Crossing. (Star Photo)

Leahy Labels ND's Izo 'Top Passer I've Seen'

New York (AP)—Frank Leahy, sounding more like an enthusiastic alumnus than an ex-coach, Monday praised Notre Dame quarterback George Izo as a passer equal to any he ever had seen.

The former Notre Dame coach, now a part-time football broadcaster during the season, also told the New York Football Writers' Assn. that it was hard for him to believe the Fighting Irish were a twice-beaten team when he saw them play Navy last Saturday.

Then, taking the edge off what appeared to be second-guessing his successor, Leahy chuckled: "I wouldn't be talking like this if I still was a coach."

During his coaching tenure, Leahy was noted for gloomy predictions and for his caution in praising players until the season had ended. Monday his prediction was that the Irish will give their opponents a lot of trouble the rest of the year.

"I believe the team is anxious to have Izo direct the attack," Leahy said. "He is a fine leader and when the other players like the quarterback, they block harder and play harder for him and become a much better team.

"Izo is as a good a passer as I have ever seen—and that includes any players you have had in professional football as well as in college. I would compare him to another fine Notre Dame quarterback, Angelo Bertelli, only this lad is much bigger."

Asked why Notre Dame hadn't used Izo as a starter in early games this season, Leahy said he didn't know but he believed he had heard something about an injured ankle.

"Still he could stand on one leg and throw passes anywhere on the field," the ex-coach added. "His aim is perfect anywhere up to 60 yards."

Although he hadn't seen Notre Dame play this season until last Saturday, Leahy also put in a plug for halfback Red Mack as a boy who "is going to be terrific" and for Navy tackle Bob Reifsnyder.

"Reifsnyder on one leg is better than most tackles in perfect health," he said.

The former coach went on to recall the 1952 Notre Dame-Oklahoma game as the greatest game of his career.

"It was a game decided by one tackle," he explained. "We had a fine young player named Danny Shannon, who was captain of our defensive platoon. With the score tied in the 4th quarter, we kicked off to Oklahoma. Shannon went down under the kick and hit the Oklahoma back on about the 13-yard line and made him fumble.

"It was the kind of tackle you could hear all over the country and both boys were rendered unconscious. They finally came out with a stretcher and carried Shannon off.

"Danny's mother, who came from Ireland, was in the stands. And here's how that fine Irish woman reacted to the situation. As they carried him off the field, she said a prayer and ended: 'Please don't let my boy Danny stay unconscious too long. We'll be needing him in there as soon as Oklahoma gets the ball.'"

4 Clubs Have Clean Slates

Four of Nebraska's 19 unbeaten 11-man football teams are assured of perfect 1958 records with their seasons already completed. Some of the others must face tough opposition.

Three of the 5 Class A clubs are through for the year. They are Grand Island, Ogallala and Creighton Prep. Omaha South plays Omaha North this week, while Scottsbluff, the only unbeaten-untied Class A team, must get by Alliance this week and then Columbus in a probable Big 10 playoff.

Auburn, Holdrege, Omaha Holy Name and Tekamah have probably the toughest job to stay unbeaten among the 10 Class B clubs in that category. The first 3 close out against A opposition Plattsmouth, McCook and Lincoln Southeast in that order, while Tekamah plays tough B foe Blair.

Ponca in Class C is the other club with its season completed both unbeaten and untied. Battle Creek also has not been tied, while Arnold and Merna have both been tied but not beaten.

Hunters Bag 1,143 Deer

By The Associated Press

Nebraska deer hunters downed 1,143 deer Monday, bringing to 3,938 the number killed in the season so far. Hunting ends Wednesday.

Top kills Monday were by Roland Peterson, North Platte, who got a mule deer that dressed out at 250 pounds, and L. C. Flock, North Platte, whose mule deer dressed out at 239.

Oddities in the day's kill were a 3 legged doe, a stag and a 28 pound fawn.

Reports by stations, Monday's kill and season total, were:

Butte 21 and 32, O'Neill 21-38, Center 12-34, Neligh 7-17, Ogallala 32-74, Imperial, no report, total to date 18, Hayes Center 3-23, Benkelman 11-26, Trenton 2-16, North Platte 45-129, Harrison 57-254, Crawford 226-748, Chadron 118-365, Rushville 104-246, Alliance 17-49, Hemingford 31-71, Gering 77-369, Bridgeport 34-165, Oshkosh 29-101, Kimball 22-127, Sidney 85-98, Chappell 7-35, Hyannis 4-28, Mullen 10-45, Tyron 6-37, Stapleton 9-38, Halsey 14-29, Bassett 19-71, Cody 39-84, Valentine 43-152, Springview 13-37, Ainsworth 27-75, Burwell 23-111, Ord 9-42, Loup City 4-13, Broken Bow 22-68.

'Line Play Beat Buffs'

Oklahoma City (AP) — "The difference was essentially the line," Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson explained Monday in analyzing the Sooners' 23-8 victory over Colorado Saturday.

"Our line had better going on defense and was a shade better on offense," he told the Monday Quarterback Club here.

"Outside of the 48-yard run by Prentice Gautt, we made very little long yardage. We just had a little margin on first downs and we kept Colorado just short of making first downs."

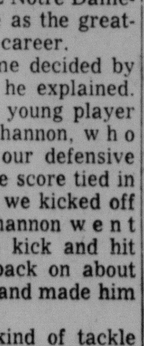

Wilkinson said Oklahoma by far played its best game of the year in winning its Big Eight Conference contest from the highly rated Buffaloes. He said the Sooners have made no better effort for 60 minutes than the Colorado game.

Syracuse Pushes Army For Trophy

New York (AP)—Army held its position as the No. 1 football team in the East Monday but Syracuse moved ahead of Pittsburgh as chief challenger in the weekly Lambert Trophy ratings.

Syracuse, which upset Pitt 16-13, drew 3 of the 10 first place votes and was only a fraction back of front-running Army. The Cadets walloped Colgate 68-6.

Pitt slipped to 3rd place, followed by Holy Cross and Navy, which dropped a 40-20 decision to Notre Dame.

Record Pro Football Attendance Delights NFL Commissioner Bell

Philadelphia (AP)—"The public wants to see pro football. Why not?"

That answer-and-question response was commissioner Bert Bell's reaction to record crowds that paid to see 6 National Football League games Sunday.

Bell places the emphasis on "paid," adding he's concerned primarily with the cash customer, although he's happy many thousands of others can get in free. Some clubs allow children to enter free—or for a cut-rate price—if accompanied by a paying adult.

Sunday, as Bell reckons, "more than 291,000 paid to see our clubs perform."

This was the biggest one-day attendance of the 1958 season, topping the previous high of 270,000 plys on Oct. 19.

"We are delighted, naturally," the gravel-voiced commissioner told the Associated Press. "But we are more delighted about how our players behave both on and off the field.

"It's the way our kids play. That's what the public wants to see. And that's what we intend to keep on giving them.

"And that's why the crowds should keep on getting bigger and bigger. And why not?"

Bell paused a moment to let the question sink in, then quickly provided his own answer.

"Because we give the public interesting, wide-open, clean football. That's why they come out and watch the pros."

NFL records show that the biggest one-day attendance—not counting this past Sunday—was on Nov. 10, 1957 when a total of 291,541 paid to watch 6 games in Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

Bell said "I believe that record was broken Sunday but I have to wait until the paid figures come into my office." That usually takes a week or so.

Last season, through 72 regular games, the NFL played to 2,836,318 —the greatest total in history. This was 11% more than the 1956 total.

"Every year we break the attendance record," Bell said.

"Sure, I expect we'll do it again this year."

Sunday's games were played at Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco, Baltimore, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles reported the biggest attendance—100,470. But Bell insists "that's not all paid.

New 'Federal Aviation Agency' Takes Over U.S. Air Modernization Board

Washington (AP) — A new government unit with vast powers over civil and military air traffic—the Federal Aviation Agency—came into being.

Its 1st action, by order of President Eisenhower, was to take over the Airways Modernization Board and its 200 employes.

Before Jan. 1 it also will absorb an agency worldwide in scope and long familiar to the air-minded public, the Civil Aeronautics Administration with its 27,000 employes.

Also by that date FAA will require some 50 employes of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and with them, all the safety rule making authority of CAB.

Bit by bit, airport by airport, for some months or even years ahead, FAA furthermore will take over more than 15,000 military communications and traffic control personnel. Eventually FAA expects to have 40,000 employes and a value, in equipment and facilities, of about a billion dollars.

For the 1st time aviation and air traffic control powers now vested loosely in half a dozen agencies will be combined in one body under an administrator with unprecedented authority to keep the nation's air commerce facilities abreast of aviation's swift advance into the jet age.

A former emergency hospital located near the White House will quarter 800 top personnel of FAA. It has been remodeled at a cost of $800,000.

Administrator Elwood R. Quesada announced that CAA and the Air Force Air Defense Command jointly have started providing a radar advisory service at high altitude—24,000 feet and above—for the new civil jet airliners just coming into operation over the northeastern part of the U.S.

The service is being provided 1st along 3 basic routes between New York and Nantucket Island; New York and Boston, Bangor and Presque Isle, Maine, and New York and Montreal.

Quesada said it would be extended Dec. 1 to two routes between New York and Miami, over which National Airlines plans to inaugurate jet service.

A similar service will be provided starting Jan. 1 along selected transcontinental routes over which American Airlines will be the 1st jet operator.

U.S. Plans Mine-Field Sub Block

Washington (UPI) — Vice Adm. R. B. Pirie said Monday the Navy was prepared to blockade Russia's almost 500 submarines with mine fields in case of war.

Pirie, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said the Navy was prepared to defend against even the "serious threat to our homeland" which would exist when Russia developed submarines able to fire ballistic missiles like the Navy's Polaris.

He pointed out in a speech to the Aviation Writers Association that geography favored the United States in any battle with the Soviet undersea fleet.

Pirie said Russians submarines must emerge from seas that are almost landlocked. "At each of the escape paths we have the advantage of laying mines," he added.

Helicopters

He said the Navy's anti-submarine forces also included hunter-killer carrier groups, land and sea based anti-submarine patrol planes, blimps and helicopters.

Pirie also made a plea for the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier which is expected to be a controversial subject in the next Congress. One such carrier has been authorized and the Navy hopes the Defense Department will include a 2nd in the budget going to Congress next January.

He said the Navy also wants a new airplane which would be a "virtual heavy cruiser of the air." It would have long-range detection radar, could track several targets and launch a number of missiles in different directions at the same time.

Abbott Sworn In As Solicitor Of U.S. Interior Dept.

Washington (AP)—George W. Abbott of Grand Island, Neb., Monday was sworn in as solicitor of the Interior Department.

Abbott was appointed by President Eisenhower Oct. 17 to succeed Elmer F. Bennett, now interior's undersecretary. Both Abbott and Bennett are subject to Senate confirmation next year.

Abbott stepped up from assistant to the secretary, following the same route through which Bennett advanced to the solicitorship before becoming undersecretary Oct. 3.

Abbott is the son of Mrs. Ethelyn B. Abbott of Reno, Nev.

Emphasis On Conservation In Education Grows

Conservation education is receiving an ever growing emphasis in the Nebraska public school system, F. B. Decker, state education commissioner, said Monday.

Decker said the Nebraska Department of Education has distributed 500,000 copies of 7 different pieces of instructional materials on conservation education to the state's public schools.

Department staff members are assisting at "innumerable" teachers' meetings to give instruction in methods of teaching conservation of soil and water and other natural resources.

"Never before have so many teachers been doing so many things in the way of helping children to see the causes and effects of erosion and to learn the basic principles in the wise use of our natural resources" Decker said.

A number of counties now regularly conduct county conservation days which include community tours to observe such practices as contouring, terracing, grassing waterways and various other aspects of watershed development, he said.

Jet 707 Airliner Sets Speed Mark; Frisco-Chicago

Chicago (UPI) — An American Airlines' Boeing 707 jet plane set an unofficial commercial record Monday in a non-stop flight from San Francisco to Chicago, speeding the distance in 3 hours, 41 minutes.

It was American's 1st jet flight to land at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

The jet cracked the commercial record flight time between San Francisco and Chicago of 4 hours, 30 minutes, set in 1954 by a propeller-driven United Air Lines DC7, an American airlines spokesman said.

The flight was only a proving run for the inauguration of jet passenger service early in 1959 by American to and from Chicago. The plane, which can carry 122 persons, was not equipped to handle passengers, and was manned by 5 men and two stewardesses.

Pilot of the craft was Capt. Charles A. Macatee of New York.

High Court Takes Judge English Photo Case Under Advisement

A motion for judgment on the pleadings of Omaha District Judge James T. English, charged with contempt of court, has been taken under advisement by the State Supreme Court.

Attorney General Clarence S. Beck had asked the high court to find Judge English guilty of contempt of court.

Judge English was charged before the Supreme Court with contempt in permitting the making of photographs and sound recordings during the murder trial in Omaha last spring of George Daniel Jones Jr.

Canon 35 of the American Bar Assn. bans such photographs and sound recordings in court room.

Judge English entered a general denial of the allegations and challenged the constitutionality of the premises on which the prosecution is based. He asked that the information against him be dismissed.

Omaha attorney Harold Kauffman, representing Judge English before the Supreme Court Monday, said Judge English did not wilfully violate the high court's order adopting Canon 35 for Nebraska.

He said Judge English contends that Canon 35 is not mandatory in the sense "that a district judge should be held in contempt of the Supreme Court for failure to hold in contempt of the district court one who violated the admonitions of the court not to take pictures in the court room during the trial.

Assistant Attorney General Gerald Vitamvas represented the state during the Monday hearings.

Jackson Sent To Iowa Pen

. . . Both Omahans

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP) — Larry D. Jackson, 36, of Omaha, who was convicted of second degree murder in the death of Joseph David Dixon, 18, of Omaha, was sentenced Monday to not to exceed 70 years in the Fort Madison State Penitentiary.

The sentencing followed District Judge Folsom Everest's action in overruling a defense motion for a new trial. The defense also argued against a life sentence.

County Attorney Matt Walsh, in resisting, contended a life sentence was merited.

Jackson was convicted last Oct. 20 of the shooting of Dixon last July 13 during a holdup in Carter Lake. Dixon and Miss Rita Ficke, 15, of Omaha, were in a parked car, and Dixon was shot in a struggle with Jackson.

Jackson testified that the shooting was accidental.

Dr. Alter was named at the 44th annual meeting to succeed Dr. Philip Davidson, president of the University of Louisville. The presidency was the only office voted upon by some 60 delegates, more than 30 of who are college presidents.

Speakers were Dr. Reuben Gustavson, former chancellor at the University of Nebraska now head of Resources for the Future, Inc., and Paul N. Ylvisaker, a Ford Foundation representitave from New York City.

2 Buildings Collapse In Seneca, Kan.

Seneca, Kan. (AP)—Two business buildings at the main intersection in the business district of this northeast Kansas town collapsed Sunday. Nobody was injured.

The two-story building housed a pool hall, an auto supply store, an apartment and the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

Heard Building Shift

About 10:30 p.m. Saturday, the Ray Downing family, who lived in an apartment above the auto store, said they thought they heard the building shifting. They rushed from the structure.

A few minutes later, the floor in the pool hall fell into the basement. The building was evacuated.

Cause Unknown

About 6:30 a.m. Sunday, the Emmett McGinty family, living across the street, heard a roar. They looked out and both buildings had fallen into piles of rubble with the exception of a part of the rear wall of the pool hall and V.F.W. building.

Cause of the collapse has not been established.

Knapp Honored By Co-Workers

George D. Knapp, local board auditor for the Nebraska Selective Service System in Lincoln, was honored Monday at a luncheon given by his co-workers at the University Club.

Knapp retired from the service Oct. 31 after serving throughout the period of the Second World War and for the duration of the current Selective Service Act.

He recently was awarded a silver lapel badge for 15 years service with the system, and last spring was nominated for a special service award as an outstanding civil service employe.

Principal speaker at the luncheon was Col. Frank B. O'Connell, and Maj. Gen. Guy Henninger, state director, presented a gift contributed by Knapp's fellow workers.

Olney Sues County, Says Road At Fault

A suit for $51,816.40 was filed in District Court against Lancaster County by Dr. Robert C. Olney in behalf of his son, John, who was involved in a fatality accident Oct. 6.

Constance Lane, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lane of 2252 Smith, died as a result of injuries she received in the accident on the unpaved road which connects U. S. 77 with Hwy. 2. She was a passenger in 18-year-old John Olney's car.

The suit alleges that "injuries to the plaintiff (John Olney) and the death of Miss Constance L. Lane were the proximate cause of definite failure to use reasonable and ordinary care and diligence in the construction, maintenance and repair" of the road by the county.

Also alleged is a charge that the county road surface changes without warning signs at the crest of a hill and abruptly narrows into a single lane.

The suit states that young Olney was traveling the county road section "in a reasonable and prudent manner," and that he suffered severe and permanent brain injury from the accident, plus mental anguish from the death of Miss Lane.

Young Olney, who lives at 1301 Piedmont, and William T. Wertz of 4125 High, have pleaded innocent to motor vehicle homicide charges filed in connection with the Oct. 6 fatality.

Go Home Hoop

London (AP) — The London Evening Star charged the hula hoop craze has led to cruelty to small girls.

The newspaper reported a 12-year-old girl fainted after 11 hours of hula-hooping in a marathon contest at a fairground in the London docks area.

"If the hoop craze is going to send normally sensible folk . . . as crazy as this," said the writer, "they can take it back to America where it came from."

A-Fallout Level Increases Again Over L.A. Area

Los Angeles (UPI) — Another increase in the radioactive fallout over the Los Angeles area was recorded Monday, but authorities said it was "an expected fluctuation."

The fallout reading had showed a steady decline following the high reached last Thursday, but Monday it increased to what Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, reported was 90% of the maximum permissable level. He called this well within "safe" standards.

Last Thursday, the fallout reached an all-time high of 92% of permissable levels following testing of several nuclear weapons at Las Vegas, Nev., in a short period of time. This level was not serious, since it would have had to remain for some time to do any harm, it was explained.

UHL explained that Monday's expected fluctuation may have been caused by remaining high radioactive clouds which settled to earth at slower rates than those which came over Los Angeles last week.

In The Black

New York (UPI)—The nation's biggest city, with an annual budget 2nd only to that of the federal government, boasted it finished the 1957-58 fiscal year in the black.

New York City comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa said the city actually came out of the year with a profit of $1,249,502 and that when all the money is counted, the figure might reach $2,000,000.

Srb: Equal Rights Mean Equal Opportunities, Responsibilities

Omaha (AP) — A pre-legislative session of Hi-Y members was told that "no law at all means chaos. Too much law means rigor."

The group, composed of Hi-Y members from Fremont, Norfolk and Omaha, gathered preparatory to the annual Hi-Y Model Legislature in Lincoln Nov. 28-29 to hear Clerk Hugo Srb of the Nebraska Legislature.

Srb pointed out that real life legislators face the problem of "supplementing and taking away from existing laws to meet the changes of time." He said equal rights must also mean equal opportunities and equal responsibilities under the law.

Also speaking was Dr. J. G. W. Lewis, Lincoln, former instructor in political science at the University of Nebraska and Wayne State Teachers College. State Sen. William Mounton, Omaha, was in charge of the session.

7 Arrested As Officers Raid Bar At Venice

Venice, Neb. (AP) — A state liquor agent said he poured $5 in nickles into a pinball machine and was given 50 cents for free games before he revealed his identity and raided the Sportsman's Bar.

Seven persons were arrested as another liquor agent and Douglas County Deputy Sheriffs Don Hansen and Robert Jenecek walked into the bar.

Booked for possession of gambling device were the owners, Wayland Petersen, 40, and his wife, Hannah, both of Waterloo, and John P. Reardon Jr., 25, Mead, the bartender.

Four patrons were booked on charges of being drunk, disturbing the peace and interfering with an officer. They are Ralph Archer Jr., 21, Elkhorn; Cecil Bowden, 35, Mead, and Charles Hurley, 35, and Valdine Rose Torgerson, 23, both of Fremont. They were released under $50 bonds.

4 Bodies Found In Wreckage Of Cuban Airliner

Havana (UPI) — Four bodies were recovered Monday from the wreckage of a Cuban Viscount airliner which crashed Saturday night after it allegedly was hijacked by Cuban rebels in what the United States government called an "act of brigandage and violence."

Seventeen persons, including 7 Americans, were killed when the airliner crashed off the north coast of rebel-ridden Oriente Province.

Three of the 20 persons aboard survived, including an American identified as Osiris Martinez, one woman and one child.

The 4 bodies were flown to Havana in a special plane. They were those of pilot Ruskin Medrano, co-pilot Jose M Combarro, Laudelina Mena Rio, and Tony Martinez, 2, a son of Osiris Martinez.

Martinez, who was described as in good condition but suffering from shock, lost his entire family — his wife and 3 children.

The airliner was en route from Miami, Fla, to Varadero Beach, 90 miles east of Havana, when it apparently was highjacked by 4 rebel gunmen.

Stocks Post Limited Rise

New York (AP) — The stock market advanced moderately Monday in a slow pre-election session but the limited rise was enough to put the Associated Press average at a new record high.

The AP 60-stock average advanced 50c to $199.20, just topping the previous record of $199.10.

The Dow Jones industrial average and Standard & Poor's 500-stock Index still remained slightly below record peaks.

Volume of 3,240,000 shares, though moderately active, was the lightest since Sept. 24 when 3,120,000 shares were traded. Friday's volume was 3,920,000 shares.

Leading issues were up fractions to a point or so and losers were in about the same range.

There were 92 new highs for the year and 2 new lows.

Gains were posted by most of the leading steels, motors, aircrafts and oils. The picture was mixed among rails, airlines, drugs and chemicals.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks advanced, two declined and one was unchanged.

The industrial component of the AP average rose 90c, the rails 10c and the utilities 10c, the latter to a new high for the year.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 1,320,000 shares compared with 1,400,000 Friday.

Corporate bonds rose in fairly active trading. U.S. Government bonds edged higher in quiet dealings.

Corporate bond trading amounted to $6,290,000 par value on the big board, compared to $6,870,000 Friday.

Grain Futures Climb Upward

Chicago (AP)—The grain futures market was substantially higher Monday in one of the most bullish sessions in recent weeks.

Soybeans led the upturn, pulled along mainly by a strong vegetable oil market, and closed near the highs of the day at net gains around 2c a bushel. The peak prices of all grains were trimmed slightly just before the finish as profit-takers found the advances too attractive to resist. The offering were light, however.

Most of the gains in the grain pits were a cent or more and all were at minimums of major fractions.

Volume was substantially above that of recent days when prices slowly drifted lower although no strong pressure from offerings then was exerted by a definite trend toward broad liquidation.

At the close, wheat was 1-1⅜ cents a bushel higher. December $1.94⅜-¾; corn ½-1⅛ higher, December old type contract $1.11¼; oats ½-¾ higher, December 65-65⅛; rye ½-1¼ higher, December $1.32; soybeans 1¾-2¼ higher, November $2.12⅝-¾.

Youth Fatally Hurt During Hunting Trip

. . . 19-Year-Old From Shelton Dies

Shelton, Neb. (AP)—Kenneth R. Hanes, 19, was fatally wounded while hunting with a party of Shelton youths west of the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant.

County Attorney Gerald Buechler said this is what happened:

Hanes was walking backwards along a county road and the other 4 were walking in a row. One of the boys shifted his gun and the weapon tangled with the gun of the next youth.

Everyone ducked and Hanes shotgun went off, the charge taking an upward course from beneath the ribs. This led authorities to assume Hanes dropped the gun.

The youth died en route to the hospital.

Hanes was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Omey of Shelton. With him were Robert Fines, 16; Larry Weiss, 18; Ronald Diercks, 17, and Vernon Dufield, 14.

Transfusions Save Life Of Peru Student

Beatrice, Neb. (AP) — Blood transfusions were credited Monday with saving the life of a young hunter, critically wounded in a hunting accident.

The youth, Raymond Wallace of Nebraska City, was still reported in very serious condition in a Beatrice hospital Monday.

Pawnee County Sheriff Leland Hunzeker said the accident occurred Sunday while Wallace and 4 other Peru State Teachers College students were hunting 6 miles south of Burchard.

Hunzeker said one of the hunting party, Richard Brown of Cape Cod, Mass., told him:

"We were hunting quail and Wallace was walking about 6 feet in front of the rest of us and off to my right. Our dog flushed a covey of quail and I remember bringing my gun up and swinging it to the right."

Given 16 Pints Blood

A charge from the 12 gauge shotgun struck Wallace.

The youth was taken 30 miles from Pawnee City to a hospital in Beatrice where 16 pints of blood were given in transfusions.

Before the state Safety Patrol could bring blood to Beatrice from the Red Cross blood bank in Omaha, two Nebraska City men gave 4 pints to fill the immediate need. They were the Rev. Robert Winger and Kenneth Henry.

A physician said the transfusions kept Wallace alive.

Edgar Methodist Church To Mark 85th Anniversary

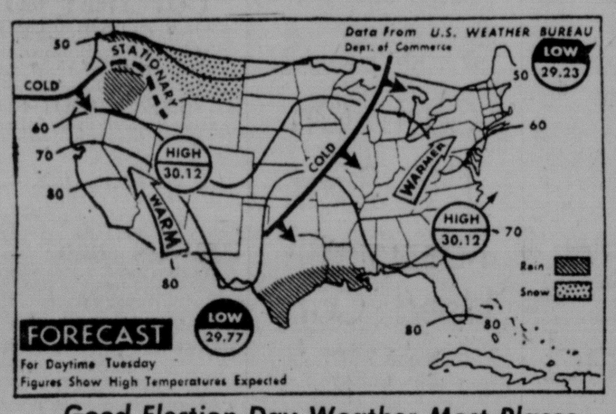

Edgar, Neb. — An all-day meeting Sunday, Nov. 9, will mark the 85th anniversary of the Edgar Methodist Church.

Dr. L. E. Mattingly, chaplain at Nebraska Wesleyan will deliver the morning address.

A covered dish luncheon will follow the morning services.
